GARAGE PERMITS ISSUED BY MUNICIPAL COUNCIL

Lively Hearing at Which Remonstrants are Heard Against Garage on Moody Street

Garage and gasoline licenses were issued all through the program at the meeting of the municipal council held this forenoon. Stephen J. Rochette wants to erect an up-to-date garage in Moody street for the storage of cars for which he is agent. He also wants a gasoline license and Timothy Roy appeared as a remonstrant in the vicinity of the proposed garage location. He does not object to a garage, but he's afraid of the gasoline, even though it is not intended for a public garage, would be useless, says Mr. Rochette. Mr. Rochette was present at the meeting and was accompanied by his lawyer, Albert O. Hanel, who argued briefly and to the point. It was stated to the council that the proposed garage would be made as nearly fireproof as possible. Mr. Rochette said it would be of iron with cement floor, steel window frames, wired glass, etc. The nearest building, he said, would be 22 feet away and the proposed site is 100 feet away from Moody street buildings and 150 feet from St. Joseph's school or convent. He said that the location had already been approved by the state police, that he proposed to live up to the very letter of the law and that the gasoline would be stored in a 250 gallon steel tank buried in the ground.

Mr. Roy, the remonstrant, said that during vacation season and other times boys had been in the habit of making little fires on the vacant lot where the garage is to be built, and he feared that if gasoline was stored on the premises, the neighborhood might, some day, go up in smoke. He said he would not like to see such conflagrations as occurred in Salem and Chelsea duplicated in Lowell.

Commissioner Carmichael said that if the petitioner would build a garage that complied with all the requirements of the law, he didn't see that the council would have any right to object. Whereupon Mr. Roy replied that the council was decided to protect the whole people and not to favor any particular individual. Mr. Carmichael answered with the retort: "But we have another duty," said Mr. Carmichael, "and it is an important one too. Besides protecting the interest of the general public, we have also to allow the individual the privilege that's his by law. People are building garages in the Highlands and Belvidere and I do not see why Mr. Rochette should be denied the privilege after he has gone to the trouble of building the premises."

NOTICE

Lost between Westford and Shelton streets, a bunch of bills, against 30 or 40 well known citizens. Should anyone try to collect these bills, offenders will please refuse to pay anybody who they do not know positively to be in my employ.

BIG FLEETS ARE IN CLOSE PROXIMITY

Violent Fighting in Progress Along the Yser Canal—Booming of Heavy Guns Heard—Germans are Active North of Arras

LONDON, Dec. 1.—Violent fighting is in progress today along the Yser canal, according to a telegram from Reuters' correspondent at Arras. The booming of heavy guns has been heard all day and houses as far away as Arras are shaken.

Remnants of all battalions within one hour's march of the Yser battle front have been sent away.

FRANCE OFFICIAL REPORT SAYS GERMANS ABANDONING ASSAULT

Unofficial reports that the Germans had undertaken a surprise attack on Arras, and that they had been taken in the trap, and that the fighting of great battles, received confirmation from the French and German official statements. The French statement, however, contains no reference to German losses.

that the battle as a whole had ended. The fighting in the Yser canal must have been lost since the reported advance of German and British fleets in close proximity to the Yser canal. The British fleet, it is reported, has been more spirited after a long time. The German fleet, however, has been more spirited after a long time. The German fleet, however, has been more spirited after a long time.

STILL IN CRITICAL CONDITION
The Belgian, who was shot in Arras following an argument with the British, is still in a critical condition at the Lowell hospital. The physicians are unable to state whether or not he will recover. His alleged assailant, Louis Toijman, is under $50,000 bond.

GEN. VILLA AND 25,000 TROOPS ENTER CAPITAL

Marched Into Mexico City—Gen. Zapata Assures U. S. That the Foreigners Will be Protected

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 30.—Vila, El Paso, Texas, Dec. 1.—General Villa entered the capital today at the head of 25,000 troops. He arrived during yesterday afternoon in the suburbs, where he remained during the evening receiving delegations and foreign consuls. General Villa will not enter the capital part of the city until the arrival of Provisional President Gutierrez.

of his interview with General Zapata and similar messages from the Brazilian minister in Mexico City were laid before President Wilson and the cabinet by Mr. Bryan.

Both Mr. Silliman and the Brazilian minister report that Zapata has been most courteous to the diplomatic corps. The only serious disturbance was the firing of several shots by Zapata's soldiers at a police engine as it was clearing down one of the principal streets. Zapata explained to Mr. Silliman that his men mistook it for an assault of the enemy and he regretted that some of the firemen were shot to pieces by the error.

The killing of four Spaniards on the entry of the Zapata forces was reported through American Consul Silliman. Foreigners will be given strict protection and that his troops will be ordered to preserve order.

TO PROTECT FOREIGNERS
WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—General Zapata, whose forces occupy Mexico City, has assured the United States government through American Consul Silliman that foreigners will be given strict protection and that his troops will be ordered to preserve order.

COLORADO STRIKE ZONE

PRES. WILSON WILL WITHDRAW TROOPS AS SOON AS STATE READY TO RESUME CONTROL

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—President Wilson will withdraw federal troops from the Colorado strike zone as soon as he receives official word from Governor Ammons that the state is ready to resume control. The president reiterated today that the commission named by him Saturday would have nothing to do with the present strike but would be of service in settling difficulties which might arise in the future.

Seth Love and the other members of the commission are expected in Washington Dec. 15 to confer with department of labor officials.

INDUSTRIAL AND STORE NEWS

John Dempsey is said to be the best artist at the Coburn A. C. N. J. is still in town renewing old acquaintances.

One department at the Prescott mills is closed down for the rest of the week.

The Walters Hosiery company is a welcome addition to the large list of industries in the city.

Agent Milliken, of the Hamilton Manufacturing company, is one of the most likeable men in the city. Frank Davis of the W. W. Berry shoe company, will organize a bowling team among the employees of the shop.

Jealous from the talk around town, the lecture at the Matthew Temperance institute tonight will be largely attended.

After the bowling season ends, the boys at the Lawrence Manufacturing company, will in all probability branch out into basketball.

William Aspinwall, formerly employed at the Adams Shoe company, has accepted employment in a Nashua, N. H., shoe factory.

Miss Elizabeth Sullivan of the Bay State mills has returned after spending the past three days with friends in Littleton, Mass.

John Teague of the U. S. Bunting company, has returned to work after being confined to his home for some time past with illness.

Miss Julia Bolan of the Silvestri Worsted company, has returned after spending a few days with relatives in Cambridge, Mass.

Employees who have been out of work for some time past are being called back to their work. This is a sure sign that business is picking up.

It is said that Hugh C. B. is employed at the W. W. Berry shoe company, far ahead of Lowell in street lighting.

Treasurer Hall of the Shaw Stocking company, is optimistic and states that an unprecedented era of prosperity is coming to this country.

James O'Brien of the Milling Shoe company, and last year a member of the Lowell Five basketball team is said to be getting in trim for the coming season.

John Shields of the Appleton company, states the ladies night to be conducted by the J. M. C. L. at the club rooms in Stockton street tonight will be a highly enjoyable affair.

The Carpenters' union local 49 will meet tonight in Carpenters hall in the Runkel building and deal arrangements will be made for the monthly action meeting to be held in the union quarters tomorrow night.

Trade in Lowell. The A. G. Pollard company has purchased a lot of carpets from the Hartford Biscuit company, which is the first step in the right direction. The second step will be to sell these products to Lowell people, creating an outlet for prosperity. Get in line.

The coming dance to be held under the auspices of the Maple club is exciting considerable enthusiasm among the young people. A beautiful silver loving cup will be awarded the winner of the baseball game, which gives promise of being something well worth witnessing.

Barbers' Union Meet. The Barbers' union held a largely attended meeting last night in Cotton Spinnery hall in Middle street and a list of routine business was transacted. Eighteen new members were initiated.

Proposed Change in Child Labor Law. According to reports a new child labor law has been drafted by the Pennsylvania Child Labor association, to be introduced at the coming session of the state legislature.

The principal features are: A beautiful silver loving cup will be awarded the winner of the baseball game, which gives promise of being something well worth witnessing.

Night work in any occupation is abolished for children less than 16 years old.

New Concerns Doing Well. The Walters Hosiery Co., a concern established in this city about two months ago at 170 East Merrimack street, is doing a rushing business, and according to the optimistic report of the manager and proprietor, Mr. Walter E. Kernew, prospects for even better business during the winter months looks exceptionally bright.

The copiers is as yet in its infancy, employing but 25 hands, but it orders keep coming in as they have been for the past few weeks, larger quarters will have to be found. The company makes a specialty in manufacturing men's black and unbleached mercerized stockings, which prove rapid sellers.

The heat of sea island cotton is used in the manufacture of the stockings, which can be sold at a reasonable price owing to the small expense in manufacturing and rental.

It will be of interest to the people of Lowell to learn that the proprietor, Mr. Walter E. Kernew, is a former graduate of the Lowell Textile school, graduating about five years ago. After graduation, he spent much time in travel, and picked up many new and practical ideas in the manufacture of hosiery. Having thoroughly acquainted himself with the ins and outs of the business, he decided to make a start for himself, and wisely picked Lowell, known the world over for its great textile industry, as the proper place to make a beginning. Mr. Kernew married a Lowell girl some time ago, and this in a measure probably accounts for his liking Lowell. He ships his products to nearly every state in the Union, and yesterday a large consignment of stockings was forwarded to a large house in Florida. He is thoroughly alive to the possibilities of building up a large trade, and feels that success is assured him in Lowell.

B. B. & R. Knit Mill Via Strike

The B. B. & R. Knit mills in Rhode Island have won their strike with the rule spinners organization. All that the strikers get is a chance to return to their old jobs. When the trouble began the officers of the union declared that the men were the most paid rule spinners in the United States, and that their only demand was that the remuneration of the rule spinners should be the same as that received by men employed in other mills spinning the same number yarn. Gov. Pothier early in the summer attempted to bring about a settlement of the strike, but the spinners declined, that they would return to work unless their demand for the adoption of the Fall River scale of wages was granted. Early in the strike, there was some trouble with the strikers, but for the past two months all of the mills have been running full time and to capacity.

Loomfixers Held Meeting

The Loomfixers union held a very interesting meeting in Carpenters hall in the Runkel building last evening. President Pierre Coult presiding. Two new members were admitted, and several applications for membership received. Several committees submitted optimistic reports and they were accepted as read. A list of important committees were referred to the secretaries for proper disposal. Interesting and instructive remarks were made on the good of the union by several of the members, and President Coult gave a short address on the accomplishments of the union in the past and told of plans for the winter season. The secretary's report showed the union to be in an excellent financial condition and all members were glad.

Faculty of Interest to Manufacturers

One of the interesting developments of the European war is the effect that it has had upon Turkish towel manufacturing in the United States. Turkish towels of German make and design have heretofore had the preference in most of the leading department stores. This is especially true of the higher grades. Now, that the supply from Germany has been shut off, the stores are looking for substitutes to supply their needs. It is much to the credit of those engaged in this branch of textile manufacturing that they have been able to meet the situation with entire success.

The figures of imports of cotton cloths for September show that nearly a third more colored goods came in this year than in September of a year ago. The total imports of colored cloths for that month were 3,073,916 yards, compared with 1,976,479 yards in September, a year ago. Imports of bleached cottons nearly doubled those of September of last year. Goods from the United Kingdom came in freely, the imports for September amounting to 5,016,173 yards, compared with 2,247,337 yards brought in from the United Kingdom in September of 1913. German knit goods came in to the extent of only $2693, compared with $226,670 a year ago in September.

The figures of exports on cotton goods now at hand show better than the figures for August what has been happening in the trade since the war began. The total shipments of cloths fell from 40,612,434 yards in September of last year to 23,794,762 yards in September of this year. China shipments amounted to but 115,000 yards, compared with 12,124,195 in September of a year ago. Shipments to the United Kingdom increased from 12,103 yards in September of last year to 658,860 yards in September this year. Canada from 1,443,754 to 1,708,984; Cuba from 3,220,869 to 3,980,393; Mexico from 169,645 to 682,731; and the Philippines from 7,826,732 to 3,720,006 yards this year in September.

Offsetting these gains are the losses for the whole nine months ending in September, which amount to about a third of the cotton cloths shipped out a year ago. The falling off in shipments for Brazil, Chili, Colombia, and other markets confirms what has been recently about many goods being held up there on account of financial conditions in South America.

SOFT FLUFFY HAIR IS FIRST AID TO BEAUTY

If your hair is not fluffy, soft and lustrous, is falling out, streaked, faded, brittle, or full of dandruff, and if the scalp itches, do not think it must always be that way, for pretty hair is only a matter of care and the use of the proper hair dressing. Your hair is like a plant, it needs protection, and dies, while with a little attention it keeps fresh and beautiful.

Parlsan Sage is a scientific preparation that supplies just the elements needed to invigorate the hair roots and stimulate your hair to grow long, thick, fluffy, soft and lustrous. It removes all dandruff with one application and quickly stops itching head falling hair. It is the ideal hair tonic and scalp treatment—contains nothing injurious and is delicately perfumed.

Any druggist can supply you with Parlsan Sage—it is inexpensive. You cannot be disappointed with this delightful and helpful toilet necessity, for it will surely give your hair the beauty and charm of youth.

POSTMASTER-GEN. INSTRUCTS

POSTMASTER TO ACCEPT MAIL

SENDING TO GERMANY AND AUSTRIA

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Instructions today being sent by Postmaster General Burleson to postmasters throughout the country directing them to send further notice to accept for mailing to Germany and Austria.

Flung at packages which confirm to the prescribed condition of the international parcel post service. This service between the United States and the countries named had been suspended because of the lack of transportation facilities due to the war.

Resumption of the service will make it possible to send Christmas remembrances to European countries, which would otherwise have been impossible.

FAREWELL PARTY

An enjoyable gathering took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Heap, 45 Washington street, the occasion being a farewell party to Miss M. M. Greenwood, who will soon make her home in Canada.

Miss Greenwood was presented a handsome silver service, the presentation being made by Mr. Shire. A musical program followed those taking part being Misses Mary Gordon, Margaret Lynch, Miss Wood, Miss Agnes Lee, Mr. Swift and Mr. Shire. Refreshments were served and the party broke up at a seasonable hour after all had extended their best wishes to Miss Greenwood and their thanks to their hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Heap.

Mr. Taffard is 26 years of age, and has been in business for the past six years. He is a brother of Officer Peter Taffard.

ALARM FOR DUMP FIRE

A portion of the fire department responded to a telephone alarm for a dump fire on Manufacture street at 8:30 o'clock this morning. No damage.

MAP OF TERRITORY WHERE ENGLAND AND GERMANY PLAY NAVAL GAME

Where Germany and Great Britain are now playing a vital naval game is shown in this map. (A) is Salisbury plain, the training ground for a large part of Earl Kitchener's great army. From here reinforcements for General French are being sent to the front, and unofficial reports have it that most of them go to Havre (C) so as to avoid German raiders.

These soldiers embark at Portsmouth and other harbors. A raid on these lines of communication was made by German submarines, and two small British steamers were sunk. (D) is Zebrugge, where the Germans recently have established a strong naval base. It is known that submarines have been gathered there, and the ones that made the raid on Havre probably went from this port, dodging or going under the British mine field which protects the strait of Dover. It was at Sheerness, opposite Zebrugge, that the British battleship Bulwark was blown up, and before that a submarine raid was made in the Downs, south of Sheerness. Recently British warships have been bombarding Zebrugge, endeavoring to smash it as a naval base, and the Bulwark is supposed to have returned from a bombardment and to have been taking on a new supply of ammunition when she was blown up. (H) shows the region where the British have intrenched and stationed 200,000 men, it is reported, to meet a possible German invasion. Should the kaiser attempt such a feat the base at Zebrugge would undoubtedly be of great importance in his army and navy movements.

MORE CATTLE DOOMED

State Inspector Farrington; Dr. Lewis of Nashua, and Inspector James O. Tilcomb, of Pelham, investigated the reported cases yesterday and verified the report made by Dr. Lewis to the effect that the cattle were infected.

Four well developed cases of the foot and mouth disease were found and Dr. Lewis was ordered to dispose of the entire herd at once. The cattle will probably be killed today along with barn cats, one hog and flock of doves. Action as to the disposal of the hay will be taken later. A trench will be dug on the farm and the carcasses buried and covered with quicklime as in the case of the Coburn herd in Dracut.

WORK FOR BETTER ROADS—CROSSED CASCADE RANGE—THE MOTORCYCLE

"Connecticut must follow the other states and put her convictions on the road," said President Streator of the Connecticut Federation of Labor, addressing a crowded ball-room audience at the beautiful home of Mrs. John H. Flagler at Greenwich, near New York City.

The meeting held under the auspices of the national committee on prison labor was held by Chairman Adolph Lewisohn, who was in opposition to the contract system of prison labor and would go on despite the war in Europe, that labor must be justly treated and the best interests of the country conserved.

The accomplishment in New York City by Dr. Katherine Davis was brought forth by her able assistant, Commissioner Burdette Lewis, who pointed out that reform was practical administration and that the prison labor problem must be scientifically handled along the lines outlined by the national committee on prison labor.

Judge Harry V. Osborne, who with President Woodrow Wilson, secured the legislative reforms in New Jersey, told the story of that fight in that state, of the accomplishment in that state, of the fight in the coming legislature.

Frederick Hoffman, speaking as an expert statistician, claimed the problem was fundamental to social progress, and Dr. Percy Grant asserted that religion could not be better served than by service in such cause. "It is a tremendous inspiration to us men in Hartford," remarked Mr. Solheim, president of the local union, to have people of national viewpoint come here and encourage us to make the fight to improve the condition of the prisoner. Every union man what is being done by the national committee on prison labor, but it means real accomplishment when we get together men like Dr. Klychway, of the Columbia law school, Mr. Lewisohn, and Dr. Whittin and plan for the fight in the legislature.

MARANVILLE SAYS THE BRAVES WILL REPEAT

Braves' Shortstop in Lowell Gives an Interesting Interview to Sun Reporter

"Rabbit Maranville, shortstop of the world champion Braves and, picked by many as the greatest of all shortstops, in Lowell for a week's stay during his engagement here as an artist of the footlights. And although 'The Rabbit' has been on the boards for several weeks he is just the same modest little chap that he was when he gambled about the diamond at Spaulding park in a New Bedford uniform.

George 'Lefty' Tyler, the former Lowell twirler who helped the Braves so appreciably in their pennant climb this past season, was on hand bright and early this morning to greet his comrade-in-arms, and the writer found both of the famous ball players going over the never old story of the most spectacular rise ever taken by a ball club.

"The Rabbit" has his auto here with him, making most of his jumps from city to city in it. His wife, they were married only a few weeks ago in their home town of Springfield, accompanies the famous infielder on his theatrical tour, and Mrs. Tyler accompanied 'Lefty' this morning on his trip in from the farm to see his teammate.

Times Lowell Fans
"Like Lowell?" replied Maranville to a question put by the writer. "Why, the New Bedford club always was used better by the fans of this city than by any others along the New England league circuit."

"And, by the way," continued "The Rabbit," "I spent a mighty fine time in the New England league. Nobody could complain about the way Tommy Doran handled us boys on the New Bedford club and although we were down in the race my last year with the club, we always received the best of treatment everywhere."

"Speaking of managers, however, always brings me right back to the greatest handling of ball players in the game—our own George Stallings. He's a wonder, isn't he, 'Lefty'?" and all of us feel toward him the same as we do toward our relatives.

Expects Braves to Repeat
"Of course I don't like to brag or appear to prophesy, but for the life of me I can't see why the Braves shouldn't repeat next season. In fact, you know, we really ought to be better than we were last year. We're all of us youngsters, and the success which we had this season and the way in which the boys fought it out through all those insuperable difficulties is almost insuperable confidence in the manager and ball club and when you most expect to see the remarkable team stop so short of the pennant, the last part of the season and through the four games of the world series it is hard to figure out how they are going to beat us off in either league next year."

"The Rabbit chuckled to himself as he thought of his first night before the footlights. "That was sure some experience," vouchsafed the diminutive shortstop, "and I'll never get through with that first night. It was all right after that, though, and I don't mind it at all now. Of course I was out with a quartet the year before but that was a different proposition altogether."

WITH THE PADDED MITTS

Phinney Boyle states that he was to box Young Morgan, Manchester, in a short time, and will start training soon for the affair. Boyle has had a good year so far, defeating Young Chackas and Johnny Munice.

Billy Brooks, the local 118 pounder, will be ready to enter the fight arena in a few weeks time. Billy claims he did not have any time to train, and that is the reason he did not box at Lawrence recently.

Young Saylor, who boxed Joe Manolo at Boston recently, will mingle over the ten round route with Jack Dalton at Racine, Wis., on Dec. 11. He will meet catchweight as Saylor refused to make weight for Boston. Britton should win.

Soldier Barfield, the Brooklyn middleweight, who defeated Al "One-Punch" McCoy a few weeks ago, will meet McCoy again on Dec. 22 at a Brooklyn club. Al was not satisfied with the beating he received and wants to prove he is the better man.

Kid Graves, the Milwaukee welterweight boxer, is planning an invasion of the New England states and will probably be seen in action at the Lawrence club in a near future. Matchmaker Creilly is angling for the services of Graves to meet either Wild Bill Flemings or Joe Ragan. Graves will box Mike Glover at the Thornton club on Dec. 31.

Freddie Welsh, champion light weight boxer of the world, and Joe Singuira will weigh in at 135 pounds at 3 o'clock for their match tomorrow night in New York. Singuira had a successful trip to Australia recently where he defeated all the best light weights in the Antipodes and will give Welsh a lot of trouble in their ten round argument.

Young Ahearn, the "dancing master" of Brooklyn who recently defeated Black Crooks, the Pittsburgh boxer, at Philadelphia recently, will box Mike Gibbons, Ahearn recently returned from England, where he made a very good showing with the best fighters of Europe, and was matched to meet George Carpentier. The war broke out, however, and the bout was halted.

Jimmy Fasano will resume ring duties Thursday night at Lawrence when he meets Larry Burns, the popular North Andover boy who has been cleaning up his opponents in great style this season and expects to spoil the ambitions of Fasano. Fasano boxed Bay Wood Thanksgiving day at Portland and received a severe gash under his eye which necessitated the stopping of the bout in the seventh round after the referee saw that Fasano was boxing under too big a weight.

NO BAD FEELING

Textile and High School Attended Keith's Last Evening

This statement is true, at least so far as ideal football goes and those who watched the members of the Textile and High school teams at the performance at Keith's theatre last night can make affidavit to the fact.

Blister as the rivalry between the two eleven was nothing but good fellowship is now evidenced on all sides. Both squads attended last night's performance at the local vaudeville house, occupying opposite boxes.

Before the orchestra took their places in the pit the school boys opened proceedings with a cheer for the Textile team. The cheer was followed by the other box and again repeated. Captains, Landon and Mohr were treated in the same manner and then the boys settled down to enjoy the bill.

As the members of the two teams filed out of the theatre the feeling was again to the effect that the rivalry was nothing but good fellowship. It is hardly necessary to say that the two groups of boys who met on Saturday night were in a very friendly mood.

With Textile and High school one more on an amicable footing the local public are certain to see some very classy contests in the future. Not only on the gridiron but probably on the diamond and perhaps on the track.

CAPTAIN OF YALE TEAM

WILSON WILL LEAD ELEVEN—FRANK HINKEY TO REMAIN AS HEAD COACH FOR THIS BLUE

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Dec. 1.—Yale's football captain for 1915 will be Alexander Dockson, Wilson of Hinghamton, N. Y. Every one of the 22 players who were in either the Yale games against Princeton or Harvard took part in last night's balling incident in the hall of the eleven in Amesbury Room 117 at the Hotel Taft.

The election was held in executive session and at its close it was announced that the election was unanimous. While the final announcement was of an unanimous election it is understood that Carroll Knapp received several votes. Knapp, although a senior, will return for another year and is eligible for the captaincy. He is enrolled in the Shennett Scientific school and was supported largely by members of that department of the university.

Wilson is an academic junior. He prepared for Yale at the Princeton preparatory school. He was quarterback on the freshman eleven two seasons ago and played quarterback last year during the present season.

He made no announcement of his policy after last night's election, but Frank Hinkey will be head coach and Dr. William Bull backfield coach, through previous arrangements. Captain Knapp and two other members of the present eleven will be announced as resident coaches for next fall. End, Rush Carter and Halfback Almsworth are considered probable as locations.

Pres. Jimenez of Dominican Republic Finds Opposition Will Not Let Congress Meet

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Although Juan L. Jimenez has been elected president of the Dominican republic, he is unable to take the oath of office before congress. The opposition, controlling congress, refuses to hold a session.

This information reaching the state department today caused officials to feel somewhat doubtful over the situation in the island republic. The commission which was sent by the government to help arrange for the election reported to Sec. Bryan last week that it had been the most successful ever held in the republic.

BOSTON NAT'L'S MEET

ANNUAL MEETING AT BOSTON TODAY—NO CHANGE IN OFFICERS CONTEMPLATED

BOSTON, Dec. 1.—This is the day for the annual meeting of the Boston National league baseball club. Pres. James L. Gaffney will be on hand for the meeting, as will Dr. Davis of New York, one of the principal stockholders. This meeting will be held this afternoon at the club's headquarters in the Paddock building.

Pres. Gaffney gave out a statement some time ago, saying that the club would retain the old officers and that Herman Nickerson would keep his position as secretary.

Pres. Gaffney will probably be ready to give out a statement today as to where the Braves will play their home games next season. It would be folly to play out the schedule at the old South End ballfield; so it will naturally be at Fenway park or at a new ball park, with the chances in favor of Fenway park, as the National league will not doubt stand for a change of this kind, if it put up to them by Pres. Gaffney. The American league has already given its consent to any deal that Pres. Joe Lannin cares to make.

Even should the Braves' directors decide to have a new ball park, they would be rather late for next season. We will await the decision of Mr. Gaffney in the matter.

As Pres. Gaffney signed about all of his ball players before the close of last season, he is not worrying about the Federal league. He is interested, however, in next season's schedule, as he wants to open the regular season in Boston. The Red Sox have opened the season here for the last two years, and it looks like the Braves next year for a starter.

Armed Men Raid Office in Jamaica Plain—Cashier Found an Hour Later Nearly Dead

BOSTON, Dec. 1.—Two masked men entered the Forest Hills branch of the H. P. Hood & Sons Milk company at 21 Anson street, Jamaica Plain, last evening, leveled revolvers at the cashier, John B. Thomson, who was in the cage, bound and gagged him, and then made away with $2500 in bills and coin.

The boldness and daring of the crime coming upon the murder of Chas. J. Merrill in the Brookline drug store and the holdup at Worcester, all within less than two weeks, has aroused the police of Boston and all the sur-

With Thomson safely bound and gagged, the men began to collect the money, which was in coin and bills, and part of which was in canvas bags ready for banking. Altogether they gathered in about $2800.

With the money stowed in their pockets, they hurriedly left the office, rode the stairs and disappeared.

For over an hour Thomson lay bound on the floor, unable to make a sound except a slight scuffling. This noise was heard by the men upstairs, but they thought it was made either by customers or by some one fooling in the office.

Thomson, still bound and gagged, and his head swathed in cheesecloth, almost suffocated, was found every an hour later by two other Hood employees who released him and gave the alarm to the police.

One of them rushed to the street and notified Patrolman James D. Sullivan, who was on that beat and happened along at the moment. A telephone call to Station 13 brought Patrolman

The Hood Forest hills branch is a three-tenement house, reconstructed for office use. Thomson was at work in the office on the second floor counting up the day's receipts just before 8 o'clock last night. He heard a noise downstairs and steps coming up the stairs to the office. He supposed customers, who had been arriving in a stream for some time, were coming in. Suddenly two men stepped into the office, each with a nickel plated revolver in his hand. They pointed the guns at the two men, had their faces partly hidden with masks made of bandanna handkerchiefs.

men, silence the two holdup men approached the cage and thrust their guns through the opening. Then while the two men in the cage were talking, a third man, who was behind the cage, the other fellow was in a moment. One of them took window cord from his pocket, and as quietly as possible they bound Thompson hand and foot, then thrust a handkerchief into his mouth. To make sure, they took away his watch, and then they took and wrapped it around the prisoner man's head.

All this, Mrs. Merton Fortune of 54 Woodlawn street, Forest Hills, and John De Roo of 20 Essex street, Winthrop, saw.

He is married. He has worked for H. P. Flood & Sons only about six weeks. He was formerly in Cambridge, where he worked two years for a soap concern. He has been on foot patrol a week, at night, at the Forest Hills house.

Once clear of the streets the two robbers with their $2500 haul had plenty of opportunity to make their getaway through the Arnold Arboretum.

J. S. SOLDIER SHOT WILSON WARNS PUBLIC

NUMBER OF PERSONS INJURED ON AMERICAN SIDE OF LINE AT NACO, ARIZ., IS 41

NACO, Ariz., Dec. 1.—A United States soldier was wounded, probably mortally, yesterday by a shot from the Mexican side in the siege of Naco, Sonora. The soldier is Private Calne Troop E, Ninth United States cavalry. He was struck in the head. Two Mexican children were wounded, one seriously.

This makes a total of 41 persons injured on the American side by stray bullets from the besieging forces of Gen. Hill's Carrizal troops entrenched at Naco. One child was killed.

PRESIDENT TALKS ON THE MEXICAN SITUATION AT CONFERENCE WITH REPORTERS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—President Wilson earned the public today by regarding the reports on the situation in Mexico. At his weekly conference with the Washington correspondents, the president declared there were many persons in Mexico as well as the United States who found it to their advantage to have trouble in the southern republic and were interested in giving out false reports of the situation.

WILSON GETS PARDON

AUGUSTA, Me., Dec. 1.—The governor and council yesterday granted a conditional pardon to Audubon S. Wilson, formerly of Wilton, who is serving a sentence of five years in the state prison at Thomaston for manslaughter.

Wilson was indicted in the supreme judicial court for Franklin county, in 1811 for the murder of CHARLES O. CHASE, but pleaded guilty to the lesser charge of manslaughter. The condition of the pardon is that Wilson shall not violate any of the laws of the state.

GARAGE PERMITS ISSUED BY MUNICIPAL COUNCIL

Lively Hearing at Which Remonstrants are Heard Against Garage on Moody Street

Garage and gasoline licenses were scattered all through the program at the meeting of the municipal council held this forenoon. Stephen L. Rochette wants to erect an up-to-the-minute garage in Moody street for the storage of cars for which he is agent. He also wants a gasoline license and Timothy Roy appeared as a remonstrant. Mr. Roy has property in the vicinity of the proposed garage location. He does not object to a garage, but he is afraid of the gasoline, and the garage, without gasoline, even though it is not intended for a public garage, would be useless, says Mr. Rochette. Mr. Rochette continued on page four.

CLOSING THE CAMPAIGN

Another Onslaught of Temperance Workers — Messrs. Landrith and Stewart Heard

Next to the last meeting of the Flying Squadron campaign in Lowell was held this afternoon and another good sized audience greeted the speakers at the association hall. The last meeting of the campaign will be held at 7.30 o'clock this evening. The speakers at the afternoon meeting included Hon. Oliver Wayne Stewart of Chicago, Dr. J. A. Landrith of Nashville, Tenn., and other notable speakers. Samuel H. Thompson presided. Former Governor Hiram of Indiana had arrived, but will be heard this evening.

The soloists were Fred Butler of New York city, Miss Vera Mullin. Mr. Butler led the singing and Mrs. Butler played the accompaniment.

Dr. Landrith's Address

In his address this afternoon, Dr. Ira Landrith, of Nashville, Tenn., college president, who is the south's only representative on the flying squadron, began with characteristic southern humor, passed quickly from easy to grave and closed with fervent appeal for the protection of the child, the school, the church, the home and the nation's life and character, all of which must ultimately all die if the saloon lives as vigorously as it desires to live.

Violent Fighting in Progress Along the Yser Canal—Booming of Heavy Guns Heard—Germans are Active North of Arras—General Retirement of Germans From Dixmude

PETROGRAD, Dec. 1.—Emperor Nicholas left Petrograd this morning for the theatre of war.

AMSTERDAM, Dec. 1.—Emperor William reached Intersberg, East Prussia, yesterday. Later he continued on the way to the front traveling by motor car.

LONDON, Dec. 1.—King George has gone to join his troops in France.

LONDON, Dec. 1.—Violent fighting is in progress today along the Yser canal, according to a telegram from Belgium. The fighting is active in the north of Arras. In Belgium, the fighting is active in the north of Arras. In Belgium, the fighting is active in the north of Arras.

Unofficial reports that the Germans had undertaken another attack on Ypres, marking the beginning of a great battle, received in the morning in today's communication from the French and German war offices.

that the picture as a whole is blurred. The fighting in the Balkans, in Egypt and in the Caucasus seemed almost to have been lost sight of. The reported presence of German and British fleets in close proximity in the South Atlantic presented the possibility of another naval battle.

The report that a German retirement of the Germans before the Belgian town of Dixmude could not be confirmed.

STILL IN CRITICAL CONDITION

Hates Reshe, who was shot in the abdomen following a quarrel over bread in Perry's court, yesterday, is still in a critical condition at the Lowell hospital. The physicians are unable to state whether or not he will recover. He is under the care of Dr. J. A. Landrith.

HIGH SCHOOL ANNEX

FORMALLY ACCEPTED BY MUNICIPAL COUNCIL AND SCHOOL BOARD

The Kirk street annex to the Lowell high school was accepted by the city this afternoon after a visit to the annex of the municipal council and school board members. Those who participated in the official transaction were Mayor Dennis J. Murphy, Commissioners Morse, Donnelly and Carmichael, Messrs. Caisse and Thompson of the school board, Principal Irish of the high school, and Hugh J. Molloy, superintendent of schools. All of the officials were well pleased with the appearance of the annex, which Commissioner Donnelly stated would be ready for occupancy on Monday of next week. All of the rooms are well lighted and large enough to accommodate a greater number of pupils than was at first anticipated. The heating and ventilating systems were explained by Principal Irish and Francis Conner, inspector of buildings. The only man employed at the building at the present time are from the lands and buildings department, and they will finish this week. Most of the work to be done to complete the job has to do with stairways.

REMANDED AS ALIEN ENEMY

LONDON, Dec. 1.—Henry Beigel of New York, who says that he is an American citizen, was remanded after a hearing today in the Bow street police court on the charge of being an alien enemy. He was arrested at the Savoy hotel. The detective who made the arrest that Beigel had admitted that he was a deserter from the German army.

FELL FROM ROOF

While engaged in shingling the roof of a house on Ford street this afternoon, Charles H. Bull, a carpenter residing in Dracut, fell from the roof to the ground striking upon his head with such force that it is feared that he has suffered a fracture of the skull. He was hurried off once to the Lowell hospital by the ambulance where it is said he is in a critical condition.

RUSSIANS ARE PUSHING AUSTRIANS TO CRACOW

Austrians are Evacuating Position After Position With Very Heavy Losses

LEMBERG, Galicia, via London, Dec. 1.—The energetic Russian advance is persistently pushing back the Austrians into Cracow. Information reaching Lemberg from a trustworthy source is to the effect that the Austrians are evacuating position after position with very large losses. It is stated that the Austrians find retreat is becoming thicker and the dead that the Russians have not time to bury them. The cold is so severe that the bodies are frozen. German officers are in supreme command at Cracow. They are placing machine guns, light artillery and wireless apparatus. It is reported on the cathedral and other historical edifices drawing the fire of the Russians to these buildings.

Recent arrivals from the province of Galicia state that the inhabitants of the towns evacuated by the Austrians are facing famine.

BOARD OF TRADE CONFERS

Decision to Get an Experienced Engineer to Make Survey of River and Report

A conference of persons interested in the Merrimack river project, was held in the rooms of the Lawrence chamber of commerce, this forenoon with a large attendance including Congressman John Jacob Rogers, President Marden and Secretary Murphy of the Lowell board of trade representing this city. A. B. Sutherland, of Lawrence, presided.

Following a general discussion by the two Congressmen, Mr. Sutherland decided to present an argument based on the adverse report of Col. Craighead, principally from a business standpoint, and to request that the engineers see a date within three months to inspect the river, together with an expert engineer. It was also decided to have Col. Craighead visit Lowell, Lawrence and Haverhill, and hold hearings on these visits for the purpose of hearing arguments for and against the project.

A committee consisting of Robert Marden and Secretary John Murphy of Lowell, Fred N. Chaudhury and A. B. Sutherland of Lawrence, Daniel N. Casey and Louis R. Hovey of Haverhill and one Newburyport, was appointed to provide compensation to secure the best engineer possible to assist in the work.

At the meeting of the board of army engineers to hold a hearing in Washington on December 2, this means that but one trip to the capital city will be necessary as the principal hearing will take place on the following morning.

All Lowell men wishing to make the trip to Washington must have their names in Secretary Murphy's office by Friday of this week.

FOUR HUNDRED TONS OF COAL

Gov. Goethals Issues Order With View of Preventing Accidents in Panama Canal

PANAMA, Dec. 1.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—With a view to preventing accidents, Governor Goethals has ordered that the Panama canal shall be operated on a strictly sober basis. His order, issued upon the suggestion of Captain Hugh Rodman, superintendent of the canal, affects all persons employed on the canal who possess marine licenses, such as pilots, tug masters, and others, and those in charge of the dredges at work in the canal and the lock-operating forces. The order among other restrictive provisions, forbids any canal pilot entering a saloon while in uniform. It is believed that the order will encourage confidence on the part of the ship-owners using the canal, and possibly have some influence toward preventing increase of marine insurance rates on vessels passing through the canal.

GRAIN FOR EUROPE
PANAMA, Dec. 1.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—Grain for Europe, from north Pacific ports, of the United States, has so far formed the largest single item of cargo carried through the canal, says the Canal Record. In the two months and a half of canal operation ending November 1, the canal was used by 17 east-bound vessels in this traffic, and eight vessels have passed through from the Atlantic to the Pacific in ballast, to return with grain. The laden vessels have carried through an aggregate of 125,255 tons of grain, consisting of 70,333 tons of barley and 54,922 tons of wheat. Counting 37 bushels of wheat and 45 of barley to the long ton, the cargo amounted to 1,825,082 bushels of wheat and 3,354,875 bushels of barley, a total of 5,179,957 bushels of grain. The next largest single item of cargo handled through the canal during the same period was nitrates, principally from Chile. It amounted to 23,125 tons, or an average of 7885 tons to the vessel. That the grain shipments should have

LABOR FORCE DECREASING

PANAMA, Dec. 1.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—The laboring force on the canal is steadily decreasing as the work nears completion. The discharges are now mainly among the West Indian negro workers. Provision is made by the canal authorities for the return of these discharged laborers to their former homes, but many of the negroes prefer remaining in Panama to returning to their native islands where labor conditions are reported to be even worse than in Panama. Quite a few of the laborers are going into the interior and taking up small plots of government lands and engaging in agriculture.

CLOSE DOWN ON SUNDAY

PANAMA, Dec. 1.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—Sunday will be observed hereafter in the Republic of Panama instead of being merely a continuation of the work-day week. The National assembly has passed a law which makes it unlawful, punishable by a heavy fine, for any person to have his business open on the day of the new law went into effect today. The measure, however, will not affect the keeping open of numerous saloons.

DOES YOUR HAIR SHOW YOUR AGE?

Of course white hair and gray always suggest age, but often faded, dull and brittle locks make us think even young people are old, while a lustrous, heavy head of hair is naturally associated with youthfulness and forces us to credit its owner with being young. Perfectly healthy hair is always beautiful and is very easily acquired if proper care is given to the hair and scalp. In washing the hair it is not advisable to use a makeshift, but always use a preparation made for shampooing only. You can enjoy the best that is known for about three cents a shampoo by getting a package of canthox from your druggist. Dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water and your shampoo is ready. After its use the hair dries rapidly with uniform color. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are dissolved and entirely removed. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much heavier than it is. Its lustre and softness will delight you, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which insures hair growth. Adv.

Mayor Curley of Boston Unable to Make State Candidates Stick

BOSTON, Dec. 1.—Mayor Curley and Senator Timilty, who is chairman of the democratic city committee of Boston, had a conference at the Parker house yesterday afternoon with the nine candidates for the city council who are commonly called the democratic candidates. The purpose of the mayor and the senator was to bring about the withdrawal of six of these candidates and to unite their supporters on the three who remained, but this object was not realized, as every one of the candidates said he proposed to stay in the fight. Senator Timilty stated that he would not arrange another conference, as it apparently would do no good. The candidates for the city council who attended yesterday's meeting were William P. Brennan, Joseph O. Curry, William P. Doyle, Thomas H. Glynn, William P. Hickey, Patrick A. Kearney, Fred J. Kneeland, James P. McGuire, and J. Frank O'Hare.

THE LADY'S WORKBAG

When a bed room or small dressing room is papered with a light blue or a neutral paper, bright colored or flowered chintz should never be used, but often a little color is needed to add tone to the room. In a case of this kind one of the new bed spreads which are so pretty and easily made is just the thing to give the necessary color. Select a plain white spread of a good quality and rather heavy. Cut from this a bunch of roses of a spray of gray colored flowers and paste one in each corner. Make a band along the long edge large enough to slip over the hand, and gather the blue edge into it. Make a seam four inches long connecting the inner edges. Adjust over the sleeve and fasten with a fancy pin.

The newest craze is for the flowered tulle. They are very expensive to buy them but are easy to make at home. Use velvet ribbon an inch and a half wide and once around your neck in length allowing for a hem at each end. Sew to the ribbon small flat flowers about half an inch apart until the velvet is covered. Double a strip of tulle, gather and sew to the top of ribbon and the same at the bottom. The tulle should be very full. Sew on the flowers to match those on the band and fasten with a bunch of flowers at the side.

A muff to match can be made out of strips of the velvet ribbon put together with strips of flowers and edged with a ruffle of flower covered tulle. The latest addition to the linen chest for the fair bride is a linen envelope to hold a book containing information for the care of linen. The proper folding of it, recipes for taking out spots, instructions for mending in the correct way to launder and the correct way to make the laundry and closet lists.

Put the envelope out of a heavy piece of linen the shape of an envelope allowing for a narrow hem all of the way around. Fold together in the shape of an envelope leaving the flap open.

Finish all the way around with a fine trier-stitch and sew on a small snap and snapper to fasten the flap. The whole can be bought of white suede or a cheaper one can be used and covered with white linen. Write all of the recipes with gold ink. All little girls love dolls and the more they have the happier they are. Sometimes the head of a doll is broken and the body is still in good condition and out of the body a new toy can be made. Make a rag head and arms and stitch them to the body and then cover the whole with black caten. Now take two flat white linen buttons and two black shoe buttons; make the linen ones through the center, put the shanks of the black ones through them and stitch on for eyes. Run a piece of tape down to make a nose and across for the mouth and use a piece of black fur for the hair.

A pretty doll pin cushion can be made from the head of a teddy doll. Wind a length of colored ribbon around the head and gather tightly. Stuff with wool or cotton and gather again at the bottom. Hang by a piece of narrow ribbon that is fastened at the back of the doll's head, or it can be made to set on the dresser.

One of the most convenient button bags that I ever saw was made out of a piece of chintz cut round, and as large as a good sized dinner-plate. Place the edge with a piece of the same, sew brass rings around it two inches apart and run through a narrow ribbon to draw it up with. When

CHICAGO'S ROBBERIES

FIVE WEEKS ENDING NOVEMBER 24, 378 BREAKS WERE REPORTED TO THE POLICE

CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—Three hundred and seventy-eight robberies were reported to the police here in the five weeks ending Nov. 24, according to the private police records. These robberies and holdups apparently were as frequent in the neighborhoods as in other sections. Most of the records showed the thieves had obtained less than $5.

WILLS DAUGHTER $1

Thomas J. Healy, of East Kingston, N. H., Leaves Property to Housekeeper Rather Than Offspring

BEXTER, N. H., Dec. 1.—The will of Thomas J. Healy of East Kingston, which has been filed for probate, leaves his daughter, Emma, the wife of Benjamin B. Merrill of Malden, Mass., with $1. The testator gives all residue of his estate to Miss Laura E. Currier of East Kingston, his housekeeper for 50 years, for life or so long as she remains single. She is empowered to sell, lease, mortgage and in use so much of the property as may be necessary for her comfort or support. She is named as executrix of the will. Any balance at Miss Currier's death or marriage is to be given to a trustee to be appointed by the judge of probate. The trustee is directed to build an iron fence and a porch over the entrance, bearing the name of Thomas J. Healy, and to be buried there. The balance of the trust fund, the remainder of the trust fund, is to be paid to the daughter and her heirs. Mr. Healy was supposed to have left considerable property.

SECOND TRIAL OF BOY TO INVESTIGATE FIRE

ANTONIO MARIANO, ACCUSED OF KILLING WILLIAM MATHERS, 12 IN NORTH AVENUE

PROVIDENCE, Dec. 1.—The second trial of Antonio Mariano, 14, for an indictment for manslaughter in connection with the death of William Mathers, aged 12, of North Providence, in the spring of 1913, was opened yesterday in the superior court before Judge Charles F. Stearns. The jury was taken to view the scene of the alleged crime and late yesterday afternoon the taking of testimony began.

Gen. Hamlin outlining the facts of the disappearance of the boy after school one day in February, 1912, and of the finding of the body the following March 27. He told of the finding in connection with the evidence and of the arrest and trial of the Mariano boy.

MEN RETURN TO WORK

BOSTON ALBANY PUTS 22 FIRE-ARMED AND DRANKEN BACK IN JAILS AT WEST SPRINGFIELD

WEST SPRINGFIELD, Dec. 1.—Owing to improved business, 22 firemen and drunken men were recently laid off by the Boston & Albany railroad. They returned to work. More than 150 employees were affected by the enforced idleness and all will be taken back before Dec. 15.

Some of the men who discontinued work in the Boston & Albany shops were two weeks ago have resumed and it is expected that a six-day-a-week schedule will be adopted shortly.

THE RABBIT'S FOOT

HOUSEWORK EXERCISE

How often we hear women groan about being slaves to housework. Each day they take up their brooms and dusters with this depressing point of view, and each night they retire more convinced than ever that housework is the greatest drudgery in the world. Start the day right. You cannot be happy in a slovenly wrapper with your hair at angles and awry. Don a little house dress of gingham, and brush your hair becomingly as you would to attend a matinee. Then with your broom and dusters and a light heart, begin your work with a glad will.

BOSTON BANKER DEAD

ARTHUR L. DEVENS, VICE PRESIDENT OF BOSTON STOCK EXCHANGE, PASSES AWAY

CROWWELL, Conn., Dec. 1.—Arthur Litchow Devens of Boston died at a rest cure here yesterday. Death is reported due to hemorrhage of the brain. He had been here about three weeks. Arthur L. Devens was head of the banking firm of Devens, Lyman & Co., 4 Postoffice square, and vice president of the Boston stock exchange. He was also vice president of the Cape Cod Canal company and a director of the Utah-Apex Mining company. He was born 61 years ago, a member of an old Boston family, and entered the banking business after his graduation from Harvard college in 1874. His firm was the Boston agent for John Munroe & Co. of New York.

He made his home all the year at his beautiful estate, "White Lodge," at Manchester, previously he had lived in Hamilton. He was president of the Somerset club, a former president of the Newport Hunt club and a member of the Essex County club and the Exchange club. He was a staunch republican and treasurer of the Republican club of Massachusetts.

He is survived by a wife, who was Miss Agnes R. Elwood; a son, Arthur L. Devens Jr., of Milton; two daughters, Elizabeth B. Boardman, wife of Gerald B. Boardman of Auburn, N. Y., and Agnes D. Hamilton, wife of Paul M. Hamilton of 22 Gloucester street, and a sister, Miss Mary Devens of 156 Brattle street, Cambridge. Thomas Mott Osborne, who recently accepted the trusteeship of Sing Sing prison, is a brother-in-law.

The son, who some years ago married Miss Venonah Wetmore of New York, has been associated with his father in business. He left for Crowwell yesterday to bring back his father's body. Funeral services will probably be held Thursday in Emmanuel church, Newbury street, with interment at Mt. Auburn.

CHRISTMAS GIFT SHOP

A Christmas Gift Shop will open at St. James' parish house tomorrow morning. The attractive little shop will be a most interesting place for the Christmas shoppers and will aid them with many little suggestions for presents. The shop is in charge of Mrs. M. J. NeSmith, street in charge. On Wednesday a delightful, in a card luncheon will be served from 12 to 2 p. m. On Thursday there will be a chicken and turkey supper from 5 to 7 p. m. On Friday evening there will be a dancing from 7 to 11 p. m.

WINTER DANGERS

News items of accidents and fatalities peculiar to the winter season are already cropping out with startling regularity. Here, it is a case of drowning through thin ice; there it is a case of a child being killed by a car. The list of killed or injured is largest among boys and girls. Parents, teachers and others influential in improving children with the need for constant caution should bring their list of "don'ts" up to date.

There is nothing new to be said about such things as winter dangers, but their very obvious nature is a danger in itself, tending to indifference. As yet we have had but little cold weather and there has been slight cause for alarm, but a week may bring about totally different conditions. One who walked by the canal opposite the Saco-Lowell machine shop last Sunday might have seen groups of children picking their way over the thin ice where the canal water lay in pools. There is a wonderful fascination in this dangerous pastime for children, and undoubtedly will have one fatality or more from this source, before the winter season closes.

The opening of the Shedd winter park has been a wonderful boon for the children of the city and to a large extent for their parents. Previous to the donation of the Shedd property, the Concord river and the Merrimack in its attractions for venturesome boys, with the result that scores of Lowell homes have been darkened by tragedy. One who used the Chipch street bridge over the Concord once remarked that he did not dare to look to the right or left in the winter time when walking over the bridge, not knowing what moment a little chap would be struggling in the icy waters. Undoubtedly the park department will see that with the first genuine cold spell the Shedd park area will be flooded for the safe amusement of the children of the city, and so far as children can be controlled in such matters they should be obliged to skate up Shedd park or not at all. Occasionally the Merrimack river and ponds in the vicinity are safe for skaters, but the contrary is more often the case.

During the last few years, coasting too has been very much indulged in by the young people of some sections, particularly in Belvidere, Centralville and Pawtucketville. Coasting is a fine invigorating sport, more valuable for the walk up the hill after each trip than for the more pleasurable feature. It is well, however, that when coasting routes intersect other streets, there be some arrangement, otherwise a serious accident may happen at any time. There have been very narrow escapes from injury or death the last few years because of coasting across streets on which the electric run. Some arrangement between the police and the Bay State company might render such places safe and permit the children to enjoy one of the very best winter sports. Our good coasting streets are too few to make their limitation popular, but nothing involving real danger should be permitted.

Besides the direct dangers of skating on thin ice and coasting over dangerous routes, there are many indirect winter dangers such as going about on slushy days without foot protection, or neglecting to keep sufficiently clad on extremely cold days. One very common mistake to avoid the open air if there are keen winds blowing and to travel in well ventilated cars, and to breathe the vitiated atmosphere of the average heated flat. One can get into as much trouble by being afraid of the cold as by being reckless and the need for ventilation and exercise is as pressing in the winter as in the summer. Our New England winters would lose their rigors if people were not so much afraid of anything looking like the strenuous life. Walk in the open air when windows at night will more to keep the body in good physical condition than many wraps and blazing furnace heat.

THREE SMALL BOYS

When we get over the surprise of the organized bands of lawless juvenile delinquents, locally, to find that other cities all around us are suffering from similar discoveries from day to day, we may be pardoned for asking if something is not radically wrong with our juvenile laws. One such instance might arouse more amusement than of alarm in the mind of the public, but when instance after instance turns up, it looks as though the state was faced to face with a very serious problem indeed.

The latest notable instance of organized youthful wrongdoing comes from Manchester, Mass., where "three small boys" after being arrested last Sunday for the suspected larceny of a leather bag belonging to a railroad brakeman, confessed to about 25 other thefts. The three small boys are aged respectively 11, 11 and 12. When arrested, two of the boys were attempting to drive away in a touring car which was in a nearby garage.

These arrests in Manchester go to prove the oft-made assertion that the present method of dealing with juveniles leads them to the commission of crime out of sheer devilry. These lads had made break after break into homes, stores and summer cottages, taking whatever appealed to them, to the value of several hundred dollars. When found they were well supplied with loot, cigarettes being among the stolen property in large quantities. There was no indication of a sudden impulse or want of thought. The "three small boys" had planned to break into homes and stores with the cunning of professionals and had been detected for a long time.

A dispatch from Manchester, after relating the arrest in detail, makes the statement: "They were taken back to face the juvenile court. Now, those who have interested themselves in the working of the juvenile law in this or any other city of Massachusetts realize only too well the inadequate, corrective or punitive influence that the 'three small boys' had to face. One of them had been before the court previously, having been on probation. These frequent instances of juvenile crime show the urgent need for repeal or amendment of the juvenile law."

A COLORADO COMMISSION

For the sake of industrial peace and prosperity and for the honor of Colorado as a state of the Union, it is to be sincerely hoped that the latest attempt of President Wilson to bring thearring elements there together will be successful. Since the great negotiations a year or more ago have been in a state of chaos, elements seemed to be in a state of anarchy. The degree of that anarchy is not to be estimated.

FOR MERCHANT MARINE

One great fact which this country has learned from the war and its attendant disturbances is the absolute need for an American merchant marine, not a merely temporary service to answer the needs of business during war times, but a permanent transportation system, owned by American capital, flying the American flag and bearing American trade commodities to all the ports of the earth. As the Lewiston Journal said recently:

There is a greater demand than ever for American tonnage in trans-Atlantic trade, and the present lines are overworked. Higher rates for use of vessels. Few of the lines, however, allow their vessels to leave their regular service. The manager of one of the lines says:

Lines says: "We have received many inquiries whether we would like to charter our boats for the trans-Atlantic trade. But we are not inclined to entertain such proposals. Even though business conditions are somewhat unsatisfactory, we look for improvement and it is our duty to provide adequate service to our shippers not only in boom times but also during periods of depression."

The situation for a merchant marine after the first announcement of war was general throughout the country. It is to be feared that the public is growing indifferent. If anything is to be achieved, public opinion should impress on congress the necessity for a return of our commercial prestige to the seas, to be aided by the restoring of the American merchant marine to its former importance.

SHOP EARLY

It is not a particle too soon to consider your Christmas shopping, for the few weeks that intervene between now and the festive season will fly by swiftly. As in other years, it may find you unprepared. At present we are having delightful weather; no one can be certain that the week or so before the holiday will be other than stormy and disagreeable. Now is the time to do your Christmas shopping while the stores are fresh and the clerks are fresh and able to attend properly to their business. In a few weeks, the usual crush will begin; goods will be handled over and over; thousands will jam the narrow passages. Now is the time to do your Christmas shopping. Remember the title of a forgotten popular melody and "go while the going is good." Incidentally, when you shop for others, do not be unkind to the needs of the store clerks who have reason to fear the approach of the Christmas season in some respects.

The plunger and the pneumatic hammer are in a class by themselves. They can do a great deal of work and yet make a lot of noise about it. You never saw a lazy man who didn't have a busy mouth.

The scientists have worked many wonders. But thus far, they haven't been able to make a three-cent round-robin take the place of a one-pound bar of soap. But a lot of the girls are not interested in science any more.

Beer is a liquor made from any farinaceous grain, but generally from barley, which is malted and ground, and its fermentable substance extracted by hot water. This extract or infusion is then fermented by yeast or other micro-organisms. The resulting liquid is then fermented in a vat, and the liquor made from an infusion of yeast, fermentation. It is then bottled from beer in having a smaller portion of hops; both are important ingredients.

The manufacture of beer and its use in the world is a very old one. It is mentioned in the laws of the king of Mesopotamia, and is particularly specified among the laws provided for a royal banquet in the reign of Edward the Confessor.

EUROPEAN WAR
Commercial Aspects are Made Known Through Chamber of Commerce

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Through close cooperation with departments of the federal government here, the chamber of commerce of the United States is keeping virtually the entire business community of the country fully informed of all developments of the European war that reflect directly upon the commerce of the United States, domestic or foreign.

The national alliance of more than 600 commercial organizations was created early in 1912. The membership of the chamber stretches into every nook and corner of the country, including in its 600 allied organizations are great and small chambers of commerce in every state and every commercially important city of the union. Their total individual membership passes the quarter million mark and every line of industry in the country is represented.

With the outbreak of the European war, the need of the specific information as to its progress and actual influence on business conditions was very urgent. Under the direction of Elliott H. Goodwin, general secretary of the National chamber, the clerical force already organized here to form a clearing house of national and international information on business conditions, was augmented and its energies directed to meeting the emergency. The bi-weekly bulletins sent out to members were increased in scope. They took up subject by subject the problems of neutrally regulations, contraband proclamations by warring powers, congressional enactments to meet war emergencies as they developed, the banking situation, the cotton crisis and every new factor affecting business, brought up by the war. Twelve work members were advised specifically of developments in each case. The chamber has a force of trained men at work among the departments following up every clue to information and they are meeting with rapid success from department officials. Some of the information sent out is of a confidential character and to protect its publication, the bulletins are sealed.

Now a special study of the foreign commerce of the belligerent powers to determine where their interests lie for increasing American foreign trade has been begun. Additional bulletins are being issued, countries by country, showing the effect of the war on their trade with the United States. Germany's trade with the United States is being studied, and the effect of the war on the trade of the United States with Germany is being studied. The effect of the war on the trade of the United States with Germany is being studied.

Paralleling almost day to day with presentations of the financial situation in foreign countries showing where the most serious conditions exist, and their duration, what emergencies are likely to arise, and what extent war operations have interfered with commercial trade, the chamber is also keeping the business community fully informed of the latest developments in the war.

THE PLANNING BOARD

LOWELL'S FINANCIAL STATUS, AS COMPARED WITH OTHER CITIES, REPORTED UPON

The city planning board held a meeting at the city hall yesterday afternoon, and as its principal item of business, received and discussed a document prepared by John H. Murphy, a member of the board, wherein was shown the financial status of Lowell as compared with 11 cities of like size. The substance of which was stated as follows:

The report was read and it was proposed to refer it to the municipal council. Although the report will be further examined by the planning board members, the members of the board were asked to take up the question of the city's financial status, and to give attention to the various problems suggested by the report.

THE SICKABED LADY

A city is an unsightly object and nurse says they are usually due to a random system.

Toothache, nurse says, is essentially an inflammatory condition, and in 99 per cent. of the cases there is a cavity in the tooth. In those cases where there is a cavity, but no nerve exposure, the treatment is simple—apply a sedative and exclude the sores of the mouth from the cavity; prompt relief will follow.

A very effective agent, and one always at hand, is the oil of cloves. It should be applied by saturating cotton with the remedy and introducing it into the cavity with a toothpick or other pointed instrument; that being done, the secretions are kept out by filling the cavity with a little beeswax, a household remedy always at hand.

The wax can be applied by warming over a lamp on the point of a knife and forcing into the cavity. Nurse says, to relieve tender feet you should soak them well and rub them thoroughly with olive oil with which has been mixed enough ammonia to make it thick and creamy. Bathing the feet in alum water is also good to toughen them and is often used by tourists who have grown weary of the road.

Swollen joints may be relieved by reduced to wet clothes, wrap the feet in a wet towel and cover with oiled paper, which you can purchase at any drug store. In the morning, the feet will be soft and white and their normal size.

CALLS MARRIAGE 'FAKE' CLOTHING FOR BELGIANS HEALING THE WOUNDED

MAN IN COURT MAKES DECLARATION—COMPLAINANT TELLS OF WEDDING IN FEBRUARY

WORCESTER, Dec. 1.—Reputed before Judge Wiley in the district court yesterday by the man she thought was her husband, Mrs. Alice Lord, of 23, Alice Andrews, aged 23, was overpowered by the court continued until today a case against Clifton Lord, 19, aged 23, a brakeman on the run between Boston and Springfield, charged with carrying a revolver without a license was in court on complaint of the woman, who testified that for a week previous to Nov. 20 she had been living with Lord at 9 Fruit street, but on that day she left him because of trouble and she went to live with Mrs. Florence Buzzelle at 3 Griffin terrace. She said that on Nov. 25 Lord was in the room of the house at 3 Griffin terrace with a revolver with which he threatened her.

Mrs. Buzzelle and Mrs. Flora Blakeley, who also live at 3 Griffin terrace, told the court that Lord had been paying them since Mrs. Lord went to live in the house and Mrs. Blakeley testified that Lord threatened to harm the woman.

Further testimony brought out the fact that Mrs. Lord thought she was married to Lord in Connecticut last February, but Lord said she was only his housekeeper and that the ceremony in Connecticut was only a "fake" marriage performed for him by a friend as a joke.

INSURANCE CO.'S LIABILITY

MUST AFFIX REVENUE STAMPS TO THEIR POLICIES—FEDERAL LAW GOES INTO EFFECT TODAY

BOSTON, Dec. 1.—If revenue stamps are not affixed to insurance policies, the federal law, that goes into effect today, will penalize the insurance company to which its provisions apply, or its agents, and will not penalize the policy holder.

The state insurance commissioner in a statement issued yesterday says that it is plain, therefore, that the law is enforceable by the companies that are responsible for the tax.

"Undoubtedly they can pass that tax along to the public, the same as they do other taxes and expenses, by making it a part of the consideration for the insurance, to be stated in this policy," continues the insurance commissioner's statement. "But to make it a separate charge, not contributing to make up the total premium written in the policy, is not permissible under the law."

"Such tax may not, for instance, be added as an item in a bill for the insurance, unless it is a part of the consideration set forth in the policy. To rule otherwise would be to say that a company may write in the policy a premium that includes nothing for expenses, but provides for such outlays by billing them to the policy-holder as separate items."

"This would utterly destroy the basis for computing reserves which has been operative both by law and custom for many years. Hence the only conclusion is that the new tax must be a part of the consideration stated in the policy, if it is to be collected from the policy holder."

"The companies do not purpose to include in the tax remains as their burden and it would not be rebating for agents to pay it from their own pockets."

MIDDLESEX WOMEN'S CLUB RECEIVING CONTRIBUTIONS AND PACKING THEM FOR SHIPMENT

The announcement that the rooms of the Middlesex Women's club would be open for contributions of clothing for the destitute people of Belgium, the first three days of this week, was not made in vain, for all day yesterday contributions of warm clothing poured in. Some packages came by mail or express, but many people brought their donations personally. An energetic committee of club members is on hand, and as the clothing comes in it is packed away carefully for shipment in large packing cases. Many intrepid contributors telephoned yesterday to ask for particulars as to the proper mode of procedure and a large quantity of clothing is expected today and tomorrow.

Owing to a mistaken report in a New York paper of Sunday, many people are of the impression that the committee handling shipments of clothing for the Belgians will take none but unused garments. This is not so; the various sub-committees throughout the country will be only too glad to accept any clothing that is suitable. Most of those who have sent in contributions to the local headquarters have sent woollens and flannels, and a large quantity of the clothing is new, having been apparently purchased for the purpose. Several large bundles were delivered this morning from the Rogers Hall school. Those who wish to send any garments to the Middlesex Women's club room, they cannot bring them personally, or, if more convenient they may telephone the club and have the goods called for. Miss Grace Ward, president, is making arrangements to have all goods not delivered at the club called for. The telephone number of the club is 591.

RESCUED FROM FIRE

OFFICER MADE OF HAVERHILL CARRIED WOMAN FROM SMOKE-FILLED HOUSE

HAVERHILL, Dec. 1.—Mrs. Susie Webster was rescued from a fire in a 1 1/2-story wooden building on White street, owned by Mrs. Charles H. Goodwin, this evening by Patrolman Scott Hyde. Her escape was cut off by the flames and smoke from the fire that started in a clothes-repairing shop on the ground floor.

Mrs. Webster occupied the tenement on the second story. She was alone when the blaze started. The origin of the fire is unknown, but is supposed to have been due to spontaneous combustion. Patrolman Hyde saw the flames and rushed to the scene. He assisted her to the street, her head and face being protected by a blanket, and she quickly revived. The clothes-repairing shop was gutted with $500 loss, and a bakery owned by Mrs. D. M. Smith adjoining suffered $200 loss. The damage to the building was about $100.

PARIS OFFICIAL REPORT

SAYS GERMANS SHOWED CONSIDERABLE ACTIVITY NORTH OF ARRAS

PARIS, Dec. 1.—The French official communication given out in Paris this afternoon says that yesterday afternoon showed considerable activity north of Arras. In Belgium there was a lively exchange of artillery, but no infantry attack.

The text of the communication follows:

"In Belgium there was a rather spirited artillery fire during the day of Nov. 30, but no attacks were made by the German forces. The enemy continued to show considerable activity to the north of Arras."

"In the region of the Aisne there was intermittent artillery fire along the front. In the Argonne the fighting continues, but without bringing any change in the situation."

"In the Vosges district and in the Vosges there is nothing to report."

GERMAN SURGEON GIVES INTERESTING INFORMATION—SHRAPNEL BALLS VERY DANGEROUS

BERLIN, Dec. 1. (Correspondence of the Associated Press)—The German surgeons have begun to talk about their experience in healing the wounded in this war. Prof. Payr of Leipzig university, who is acting as surgeon-general to the Saxony army, recently delivered an address at one of the improvised hospitals on the line of the German communications, in which he gave much interesting information on this subject.

Payr pointed out that the balls used in shrapnel shells produce much more dangerous wounds than rifle bullets. These carry into the body fragments of clothing, a corresponding quantity of dangerous germs; and they are much more likely to be lodged in the body. There was suppurating in 75 per cent of cases. The danger is still more serious with wounds from fragments of shells. It was found, too, that this war has been especially marked by the great number of such wounds. Not only do shrapnel fragments carry germs into the body with bits of clothing, but the dangerous gases from the shrapnel explosion often adhere to the fragments and help in sufficient quantities to poison the wound. Lock-Jaw is often produced by wounds of this character; but by vaccinating patients with a tetanus serum the German surgeons have materially reduced the rate of deaths.

Especially dangerous are the wounds caused by fragments of bombs thrown by aviators. Even very small fragments often produce much more dangerous wounds than much larger pieces of ordinary shells. These small fragments penetrate very deep into the body, cutting through all blood vessels, and thick masses of shrapnel are often thrown with sharp knives. Aeroplane bombs also frequently cause bad burns.

So far as simple flesh wounds from small-caliber rifles are concerned, Payr found that these heal very rapidly. In most cases the wounded were able to return to the ranks within a week or two. Even in cases of chest wounds, where the ribs are not broken, healing is usually rapid, even though the lungs are penetrated.

A new kind of wound has been caused by the sharp barbs of French barbed wire. These barbs have about the thickness of an ordinary lead pencil, and when thrown from a height of about 500 feet strike the victim in the velocity of a bullet, leaving the mangle of a rifle wound.

Dr. Payr declares that the most fearful of all wounds are those of the chest. These are the most difficult to treat, and the most dangerous. They are the most difficult to treat, and the most dangerous. They are the most difficult to treat, and the most dangerous.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

THE OPERA HOUSE

"Herrlitz" is the summit of go-go-go in the great spectacles. "Cabaret" which opened a week's engagement at the Opera House yesterday lived up to the advance notices and is every bit as good as it was said to be. It is a more remarkable even than the public had been led to believe it would be. The music is of the highest quality, the acting is of the highest quality, and the production is of the highest quality. The story is a masterpiece of the go-go-go genre, and the music is a masterpiece of the go-go-go genre. THE FUNCTION OF THE TEETH IS MOST IMPORTANT—BAD TEETH CAN NOT PERFORM IT

In the mouth takes place the first and most important step in digestion, and the only one over which we have perfect control. The teeth perform a very important function for they grind the food and mix it with saliva, and the latter has an equally important function, for in the act of digestion all foods containing starch must be converted into sugar before they can be absorbed and carried into the circulation. This change is performed by one of the ingredients of the saliva, and unless the food is thoroughly chewed, the saliva and other digestive juices of the mouth, stomach and intestines cannot act upon every morsel of food and extract therefrom the nourishment necessary to the maintenance of strength and energy.

Improperly chewed food is improperly digested and results in dyspepsia, indigestion, gastritis, poor nutrition and a host of other serious internal disorders.

The importance, then, of having GOOD TEETH cannot be overestimated and it is a pity that here are so many people who do not know that the CAUSES which give rise to BAD TEETH can be PAINLESSLY CURED by my NAP-A-MINT methods and their teeth saved and made comely.

Visit my offices and let me explain in detail the merits of my Porcelain Nap-a-Mint treatment. Consultation and examination free.

THE FLYING SQUADRON

Continued

Dr. N. (retired), presided at the evening meeting. He spoke from the point of view of a naval commander and a business man, and in each capacity he was a most convincing speaker. He said that either in the navy or in business the man who uses liquor should be gotten rid of. He will go back on his word, said the speaker, at the time when you most need his services. That is one reason why we had to get rid of him in the navy.

The afternoon session of the Flying Squadron at Associate hall, yesterday afternoon was well attended.

The program included a song service conducted by Miss Laura Shaw of Danville, Ill., and speaking by two well known members of the squad as well as remarks by local clergymen and others interested in the cause.

The session was called to order by Rev. A. C. Merrill, pastor of the High Street Congregational church, and after brief remarks, he introduced Mr. W. C. H. of this city as the presiding officer of the afternoon.

The audience was then addressed by several speakers, who all spoke in favor of the prohibition. The first speaker was Mr. E. A. B. of Brookline, Mass., who was a large figure in the W. C. U. and was then introduced by Mr. C. H. of this city.

Mr. B. spoke in favor of the prohibition, and he said that the prohibition was a necessary measure to protect the health and the morals of the people. He said that the prohibition was a necessary measure to protect the health and the morals of the people.

Appetite Follows Good Digestion

Nearly everyone indulges their appetite and the digestive organs are abused, resulting in a congestion of poisonous waste that clogs the bowels and causes much misery and distress.

The most effective remedy to correct this condition is the combination of simple laxative herbs with peppermint known as Dr. Caldwell's Pepsin Peppermint. This is a natural, pleasant-tasting remedy, gentle yet positive in action, and quickly relieves indigestion, constipation, sick headache, belching, etc. Drug stores sell Dr. Caldwell's Pepsin Peppermint in every form, in a bottle and in a box. It is a home remedy for a sore throat, a cold, a fever, a headache, a stomachache, a heartache, a liverache, a kidneyache, a bladderache, a testicleache, a prostateache, a rectumache, a colonache, a stomachache, a heartache, a liverache, a kidneyache, a bladderache, a testicleache, a prostateache, a rectumache, a colonache, a stomachache, a heartache, a liverache, a kidneyache, a bladderache, a testicleache, a prostateache, a rectumache, a colonache, a stomachache, a heartache, a

MILL GIRL ABDUCTED TAKEN OFF IN AUTO

Men Seized Girl Leaving Mill in Jackson Street and Carried Her Off Screaming for Help

"An investigation is today being made of the abduction alleged to have occurred early last evening near the corner of Jackson and King streets while hundreds of mill operatives were returning to their homes from the different mills and factories in that vicinity. A young woman, whose identity is not known, is alleged to have been picked up by three men and carried away in a large touring car, the entrance to the Hamilton and Appleton mills.

The driver of the car, attired in heavy fur coat with a fur cap which partly covered his face, jumped onto the sidewalk and stood alone for a few moments, looking anxiously at the woman, who came along and stopped talking to the chauffeur. For a few minutes they chatted together when suddenly, according to witnesses, the two men who had remained in the car, picked up the girl, hurried her into the automobile.

The details of the affair were reported at the police station by witnesses of the abduction, but no clue could be given to the identity of the two young men who are said to have seized the girl and placed her in the auto. A peculiar fact relative to the affair is that no girl has been reported missing from any part of the city. Today an effort was made by the police to ascertain whether any one

The whole thing occurred in almost an instant while men and women stood on the sidewalk looking on in amazement enacted before their eyes. The police were notified and the authorities in surrounding cities and towns were alerted. The police could not find the automobile, no trace of it could be found. It is supposed that the girl was taken to a hotel or road house in New Hampshire.

KAISER ON BATTLEFIELD

Recent Claims of Complete Russian Victory Were Premature—King George in France

LONDON, Dec. 1.—Though it seems clear now that the German army in Russian Poland and the part of it which the Russians surrounded near Brest was only ordered to annihilate. This partly is due, of course, to the fact that there had been so great change in the western situation, conditions which may persist until some sharp turn occurs in the eastern struggle.

The Germans fought with such fury that the cordon enclosing them was broken and as German reinforcements are coming up the issue is not yet decided.

The British press interpreting the news despatches from Petrograd contends that a Russian success on a colossal scale still is possible but in all quarters it is admitted that the recent claims of a complete Russian victory are exaggerated. The British press, however, have regarded the official statements made by the Russian Government with suspicion. The opinion of this is assumed to be only a guess of correspondents working on the theory that the Russian success has been overwhelming and final.

Poland with Emperor William. on the field will likely continue to overshadow all other war arenas for some days to come. Even the London press is devoting more space to the battles there than to the conflict in Flanders.

WORK FOR BETTER ROADS—CROSSED CASCADE RANGE—THE MOTORCYCLE

"Connecticut must follow the other states and put her convicts on the roads," said President Strenuous of the Connecticut Federation of Labor, addressing a crowded hall-room audience at the beautiful home of Mrs. John H. Flagler at Greenwich, near New York City. The meeting held under the auspices of the national committee on prisons and prison labor was told by Chairman Adolph Lewin that the war was on against the convict system of prison labor and must go on until the war in Europe; that labor must be justly treated and the best interests of the convict conserved.

The accomplishment in New York City by Dr. Katherine Davis was brought forth by her able assistant, Commissioner Burdette Lewis, who pointed out that reform must be practical administration and that the practical problem must be scientifically handled along the lines outlined by the national committee on prisons and prison labor.

Judge Harry V. Osborne, who with President Woodrow Wilson secured the legislative reforms in New Jersey, told the story of the fight in that state, of the accomplishment in the road work, and urged the Connecticut men to fight hard in the coming legislature. Frederick Hoffman, speaking as an expert statistician, claimed that religion could not be better served than by service in such cause. "It is a tremendous inspiration to us," he remarked, "to see the local union to have people of national viewpoint come here and encourage us to make the fight to improve the condition of the prisoners. Every union man throughout the country appreciates what is being done by the national committee on prisons and prison labor, but it means real accomplishment when we get together men like Dr. Kirch-

MARANVILLE SAYS THE BRAVES WILL REPEAT

Braves' Shortstop in Lowell Gives an Interesting Interview to Sun Reporter

"The Rabbit" Maranville, shortstop of the world champion Braves and picked by many as the greatest of all shortstops, in Lowell for a week's stay during the season here as an artist of the field. And although the Rabbit has now been "on the board" several weeks he is just the same modest little chap that he was when he was holed about the diamond at Springfield in a New Bedford uniform.

George "Lefty" Tyler, the former Lowell twirler who helped the Braves to their pennant climb this past season, was on hand bright and early this morning to greet his comrad-in-arms, and the writer found both of the famous ball players quite over the never old story of the most spectacular rise ever taken by a ball club.

"The Rabbit" has his auto here with him, making most of his trips from city to city in it. His wife, they were married only a few weeks ago in their home town of Springfield, accompanies the famous infielder on his theatrical tour, and Mrs. Tyler accompanied "Lefty" this morning on his trip in from the farm to see his teammate.

Princes Lowell Fans

"Like Lowell?" replied Maranville to a question put by the writer. "Why, the New Bedford club always was used better by the fans of this city than by any others along the New England league circuit."

"And, by the way," continued "The Rabbit," "I spent a mighty fine time in the New England league. Nobody could complain about the way Tommy Dowd handled us boys on the New Bedford club and although we were down in the race my last year in the club, we always received the best of treatment everywhere."

"Speaking of managers, however, always brings me right back to the greatest manager of ball players in the game—our own George Stallings. He's a wonder, isn't he? Lefty? and all of us feel toward him the same as we do toward our relatives."

Expect Braves to Repeat

"Of course I don't like to brag or appear to prophesy, but for the life of me I can't see why the Braves shouldn't repeat next season. In fact, you know, we really ought to be better than we were last year. We're all of us youngsters, and the success which we had this season and the way in which the boys fought it out through almost insurmountable difficulties is enough to inspire confidence in the most ragged ball club and when you stop to consider the remarkable team work displayed by the Braves during the latter part of the season and the fact that it is hard to figure out how they are going to head us off in either league next year."

The talk then drifted on to the athletics and the Rabbit chuckled to himself as he thought of his first night before the footlights. "That was sure some experience," he chuckled. "I never got through with the act that first night. I was all right after that, though, and I don't mind it at all now. Of course I was out with a quartet the year before that, but that was a different proposition altogether."

WITH THE PADDED MITTS

Phinney Boyle states that he was to box Young Morgan, in Manchester in a short time and will start training for the affair. Boyle has had a good year so far defeating Young Chas and Johnny Plunice.

Billy Brooks, the local 118 pounder, will be ready to enter the fight arena in a few weeks time. Billy claims he did not have any time to train and that is the reason he did not box at Lawrence recently.

Young Saylor who boxed Joe Mandot at Boston recently, will mingle with the ten round bout with Jack Moran at Reading, Wis. on Dec. 11. Saylor will meet Al Catcher, who refused to make weight for the bout. Britton should win.

Soldier Bartfield, the Brooklyn middleweight, who defeated Al "One Eye" McCoy a few weeks ago, will meet McCoy again on Dec. 22 at a Brooklyn club. Al was not satisfied with the beating he received and wants to prove he is the better man.

Kid Graves, the Milwaukee welterweight boxer, is planning an invasion of the New England states and will probably be seen in action at the Lawrence club in the near future. Graves is a very good boxer and will be a very good draw for the fight.

Freddie Welsh, champion lightweight boxer of the world, and Joe Shugart will weigh in at 135 pounds at 3 o'clock for their match tomorrow night in New York. Shugart had a successful trip to Australia recently where he defeated the best lightweights in the Antipodes and will give Welsh a lot of trouble in their ten round argument.

Young Ahearn, the "dancing master" of Brooklyn who recently defeated Buck Crouse, the Pittsburgh boxer, in Philadelphia recently, will box there again on Christmas day. His opponent will either be Jimmy Chaffin or Mike Gibbons. Ahearn recently returned from a tour of the world, and made a very good showing with the best fighters of the game and was matched to meet Georges Carpentier. The war broke off, however, and the bout was halted.

Jimmy Fasano will resume ring duties Thursday night at Lawrence when he meets Larry Burns, the popular North Andover boy who has been closing up his opponents in great style this season. Fasano expects to win this fight and will give Burns the ambitions of Fasano. Fasano boxed Bay Wood Thanksgiving day at Portland and received a severe cast to his eye which necessitated the stopping of the bout in the seventh round after the referee saw that Fasano was boxing under too big an handicap as Wood outweighed him by ten pounds.

Tommy McCarthy, cousin of the defeated Luther McCarthy, is creating quite a sensation in Gotham by his wins over Jim Savage and Battling Levinson and will in all probability be signed to meet Al Rich, the ex-amateur heavyweight champion, who has also been winning in a decisive fashion in his recent fights. McCarthy is a sweet puncher and can also box better than most of the current professional fighters. Tommy weighs 152 pounds, stands six feet in height and possesses an ideal build.

Gardner Brooks, who lost the decision to Young Labor in Manchester recently, states that he would like to meet Labor again any club that would put up a challenge. Brooks and Labor put up a slugging bout last week. Labor was shaded in the early part of the fight but came back in the last two rounds that Brooks could not have lasted much longer, and referee Tommy Sullivan called the bout a draw.

MANY LEAGUE GAMES

Textile and High School Attended Keith's Last Evening.

The War's all over. This statement is true, at least so far as local football games and the school members of the high school teams are concerned. The performance at Keith's theatre last night was a fitting end to the season.

Both squads attended last night's performance at the local vaudeville house, facing opposite boxes. The orchestra took their places at the high school boys' grandstand, and a cheer for Textile was loudly applauded from the other box and then reciprocated. Captain Lane and Coach Mopha were treated to the same manner and then the boys settled down to enjoy the bill.

As the members of the two teams and out of the theatre the best of feeling was shown to exist between them. It seems like the same old teams of young men who mused each other up in Saturday's muddy game.

Textile and high school once more on an amiable footing, the local public are certain to see some very classy contests in the future not only on the gridiron but on the diamond and perhaps on the basketball court.

It is one thing to have athletic relations ever broken off between the two schools. With athletics as a hobby, the season they should be no bad feeling, even out of them, the breaking of bad blood is not necessary, although rivalry between the two institutions may be at its height.

No serious injuries resulted from last year's high school football game. The game was a draw, but the boys were a bit sore. The season they should be no bad feeling, even out of them, the breaking of bad blood is not necessary, although rivalry between the two institutions may be at its height.

The fact that none of the players was injured is a big point for consideration among those interested in the health of the children. The season they should be no bad feeling, even out of them, the breaking of bad blood is not necessary, although rivalry between the two institutions may be at its height.

The friendly attitude now existing between the students of the two local schools is directly due to the capable handling of last Saturday's game and all arrangements pertaining to it by Arthur A. Stewart, assistant manager of Textile school athletics, and William W. Bennett, faculty manager of football at the high school. These two instructors showed rare judgment in every detail and should receive the hearty endorsement of both schools as well as that of the sporting public at large.

ANNUAL MEETING AT BOSTON TODAY—NO CHANGE IN OFFICERS CONTEMPLATED

BOSTON, Dec. 1.—This is the day for the annual meeting of the Boston National league baseball club. Pres. James E. Gaffney will be on hand for the meeting, as will Dr. Davis of New York, one of the principal stockholders. This meeting will be held this afternoon at the club's headquarters in the Paddock building.

Pres. Gaffney gave out a statement yesterday afternoon saying that the club would retain the old officers and that Herman Nickerson would keep his position as secretary.

Pres. Gaffney will probably be ready to give out a statement today as to where the Braves will play their home games next season. It would be folly to play out the schedule at the old South End ballfield, so it will naturally be at Fenway park or at a new ball park, with the chances in favor of Fenway park, as the National league will no doubt stand for a change of this kind, if put up to them by Pres. Gaffney. The American league has already given its consent to any deal that Pres. Joe Lannin cares to make.

Even should the Braves' directors decide to have a new ball park, they would be rather late for next season. We will await the decision of Mr. Gaffney in this matter.

As Pres. Gaffney signed about all of his ball players before the close of last season, he is not worrying about the Federal league. He is interested, however, in next season's schedule, as he wants to open the regular season in Boston. The Red Sox have opened the season here for the last two years, and it looks like the Braves next year for a starter.

BOSTON MAN ARRESTED
GEORGE MONROE HELD FOR ALLEGED THEFT OF POLO PONY AT NARRAGANSETT PIER

PROVIDENCE, Dec. 1.—George Monroe, alias Frank Snow, of Boston, was arrested by the Western police today, accused of the theft of a polo pony and buggy from Narragansett Pier last night, from John H. Foster of Philadelphia.

The horse, in charge of a driver for Mr. Fell, was left in the street where it was stolen. Sheriff John H. Wilcox sent information to various cities and towns and as a result Monroe was arrested just as he entered Western. He was taken to Kingston, where he may be arraigned tomorrow.

MOTION FOR CHANGE OF VENUE IS DENIED

Trials of Dr. Lionel Dudley and Miss Pelletier, Held in Sullivan Case, Will be Held in Houlton

HOULTON, Me., Dec. 1.—The motion of public feeling would be so bad and that the trials of Dr. Lionel Dudley and Miss Pelletier of Precourt, Me., on the charge of murder in connection with the death of Miss Mildred Sullivan of Houlton, be held in Precourt or some county other than Aroostook, was denied by Judge Haley today. The trials will begin on Thursday.

Judge Haley's decision was in reply to motions by counsel for the respondents for a change of venue on the ground that a fair and unprejudiced trial could not be obtained in Aroostook county. He said the condition

Thousands Have Died in Vicinity of Dixmude as Result of German Effort to Force Way to English Channel—Russians at Gates of Cracow

A general retirement of the Germans before the Belgian town of Dixmude was reported unofficially today. This town, recently captured by the Germans from the allies, lies in the heart of the contested section of Belgium where uncounted thousands have died as a result of the German effort to force a way to the English channel. The reported withdrawal could not be reconciled with reports late last night that a great battle was in progress between the Yser canal and the river Lys. It was said that 125,000 Germans had been thrown up before the town. The latest information concerning this situation in the east indicates that the Germans whose position has been described as a desperate one were undertaking vigorous offensive movements on some of the scattered battlefields of Russian Poland. In East Prussia, the Russians have succeeded in penetrating about 30 miles beyond the border and in Galicia it is reported that the Austrians have been swept back to the gates of Cracow. In all these regions, however, the issue still hangs in the balance.

YEGGS BIND AND GAG CASHIER, TAKE $2800

Armed Men Raid Office in Jamaica Plain—Cashier Found an Hour Later Nearly Dead

BOSTON, Dec. 1.—Two masked men entered the Forest Hills branch of the H. P. Hood & Sons Milk company at 231 Ames street, Jamaica Plain, last evening, leveled revolvers at the cashier, John E. Thomson, who was in the cage, bound and gagged him, and they made away with $2800 in bills and coins.

The boldness and daring of the crime, which took place on the morning of Dec. 1, startled the police of Boston and all the surrounding cities and towns.

Thomson, still bound and gagged, and his head swathed in cheesecloth, was found on the floor of the office, about an hour later by two other Hood employees, who released him and gave the alarm to the police.

With Thomson safely bound and gagged, the men began to collect the money, which was in bills and coins and part of which was in bags ready for banking. Altogether they gathered in about $2800.

With the money stowed in their pockets they hurriedly left the office, ran down the stairs and disappeared.

For over an hour Thomson lay bound on the floor, unable to make a sound except a slight scuffling. This noise was heard by the men upstairs, who thought it was made either by customers or by some one fooling in the office.

Finally they went downstairs. They found the lights all out. Quickly snapping them on, they discovered Thomson sitting up for breath.

One of them rushed to the street and notified Patrolman James D. Sullivan, who was on that beat and happened along at the moment. A telephone call to Station 13 brought Patrolman James Harriman, Sergeant Feltridge of Station 17 and a squad of policemen.

Police headquarters was notified, and sent out a general alarm in all directions. Cities as far away as Worcester and Providence, R. I., were notified and urged to watch for the yeggs.

Thomson could give the police but a meagre description of the robbers to the police. He said they were about 25 years of age, and the thought of them had a sear on his face. One wore a cap, the other a derby hat. Each had the lower part of his face hidden by a bandana handkerchief. The men were armed, not with the automatic revolvers which yeggs use so much lately, but with nickel plated five or six shotguns, apparently of 22 calibre.

Thomson is 32 years old and has worked for H. P. Hood & Sons only about six weeks. He was formerly in Cambridge, where he worked two years for a soap concern. He has been on duty twice a week, at night, at Forest Hills branch.

One clear of the streets the two robbers with their $2800 haul had plenty of opportunity to make their getaway through the Arnold Arboretum, Franklin Park or the Forest Hills cemetery.

NOT TO WED WOMAN TO OPPOSE WAR PROBE

GEORGE A. NELSON, 35, SAYS THAT HE THINKS JUST AS MUCH OF MISS FRANCES WILSON AS EVER

BOSTON, Dec. 1.—George A. Nelson, 35, a former president of the Dorchester Yacht club, has given up his intention of marrying 59-year-old Frances Maria Wilson of 60 Russell street, Charlestown, the wealthy invalid who had been his friend from the cradle up and who taught him his first long-panis suit of clothes.

Refused a marriage license from the Boston registry on the grounds that a woman of 59 is "mentally incompetent" to enter into such a contract, Nelson last night wrote a letter to City Clerk Edward J. Braddon of Cambridge withdrawing an application for a license to marry Miss Wilson which he had filed in that city.

He gave as his reason for abandoning the idea of matrimony, a personal aversion for the publicity which his efforts have aroused, and a desire to shield Miss Wilson from further annoyance. He stated the following statement in his letter:

"On account of the publicity I have received, I have decided to give up my intention of marrying and I have written a letter to City Clerk Braddon of Cambridge withdrawing my application for a marriage license."

In an affidavit added, "I have just as much of Miss Wilson as ever, but I don't want to cause her any trouble."

It was learned yesterday that last Thursday morning, right after he had refused a marriage license, in Cambridge, he applied for one in the Cambridge city clerk's office gave the names, ages and addresses as follows:

George Augustus Nelson, 35, 470 Franklin street, Cambridge, to Frances Maria Wilson, 59, same address. Nelson said last night that his "uncle died at this house and that he had stopped there himself."

On the application card presented in Boston, both addresses were given as 60 Russell street, Charlestown, and Miss Wilson's age as 52. Relatives say she will be 60 next year, and she never married.

In regard to the Cambridge application, Nelson said last night: "I made a mistake. I was all wrought up over the refusal of one in Boston. I acted hastily. I said that it had been an intention to refuse the license in Boston, and I said that my first impulse, which was a determination to be married, in spite of opposition. I can see now that I made a mistake."

Told of the Cambridge application last evening, Miss Wilson expressed great surprise. She held up her head in astonishment, and exclaimed: "Worse and more of it! Will there ever be an end to it all." She declared that she had not changed her mind about marrying Nelson—that after living almost 60 years single she had no intention of marrying anyone.

Miss Wilson's sister, Mrs. James Bartlett of Pleasant street, East Lexington, yesterday took steps toward having a legal guardian with custody appointed for her sister, who is said to be worth in the neighborhood of $50,000.

NEW YORK POLICE WAYS REV. FR. O'BRIEN TO SPEAK MRS. SCUDDER ON TRIAL

METROPOLITAN COM. WOODS TALKS ABOUT HIS WORK TO A CROWD OF HARVARD MEN

BOSTON, Dec. 1.—Arthur Woods, police commissioner of New York city, held the attention of a big crowd of Harvard men last night when he talked to them in the union about police work in New York city. He illustrated his general discussion with numerous incidents of actual experience.

He opened by indicating the scope of the problem, saying the police district has 5,600,000 population, including 2,000,000 with 860,000 between the Bowery and the East River, one section of 20 blocks housing 70,000 people.

"These people, he said, the police must represent all there is of law and order. A remarkable amount of crime is committed by small boys, the second generation of foreigners."

Speaking of the gunman, he observed that he is a different man from what he was 15 years ago. "Then he was a wild, hard-fisted Irishman with hard knuckles, often covered with brass and he carried a big jack. He could fight. These men are now. Now we have the sleek, diminutive man, a few inches tall, neatly arranged, he is really manly and he never fights with his fists, but carries a gun. Five times out of 10 this gunman is a subtle assassin."

"This sort of man is one of a gang and their number has increased greatly in the past five or six years. The gorilla is a medieval character, plucked in the middle of our civilization, and they never will resort to another class of administration their punishment."

The trouble, that our modern law and procedure are meant for law-abiding persons and the previous administration which ordered the police man not to use force unless in self-defense, thus encouraged the growth of these gangs.

They are systematic blackmilers and was the case of "Blackie Benzie," a Sicilian blond, weighing 150 pounds, the gang at Grand and Forsyth street was an arch gang. When many employees of shopkeepers in his district belonging to a union would strike, he would see the walking delegate and for a sum of money he would break windows and club the strike-breakers.

"Directly then he would go to the employer and make the same arrangement with him. Double Benzie was caught in this district by three detectives behind the counter of a shopkeeper whom he intimidated and forced to pay money."

Within the next three weeks the police of New York are going to take up the question of unemployment, which is bound to come in the wake of the present labor trouble, that has been brought on through stress and pressure of the war."

CHOSE COLLECTION DAY

Yesterday was collection day for the Hood company, which accounts for the large amount of money in the office.

The Hood Forest Hills branch is in a three-tenement house, reconstructed for office use. Thomson was at work in the office on the second floor counting up the day's receipts just before 3 o'clock last night. He heard the door downstairs opened and steps coming up the stairs to the office. He supposed customers, who had been arriving in a stream for some time, were coming in.

Suddenly two men stepped into the office, each with a nickel plated revolver in his hand, leveled at Thomson. The two men had their faces partly hidden with masks made of bandanna handkerchiefs.

In silence the two holdup men approached the cage and thrust their guns through the opening. Then while one kept Thomson covered, the other went behind the cage. The other took a window cord from his pocket, and as quietly as possible they bound Thomson hand and foot, then thrust a handkerchief into his mouth. To make it doubly sure, they took cheesecloth and wrapped it around the protruding man's head.

All this time Merion Fortune of 51 Woodlawn street, Forest Hills, and John De Roo of 29 Essex street, Charlestown, employees of the Hood company, were on the floor above.

CARMEN MAY STRIKE

MIDDLESEX AND BOSTON MEN DEMAND REINSTATEMENT OF MOTORMAN WHO WAS DISCHARGED

WALTHAM, Dec. 1.—Street Carmen's union, whose members are employees of the Middlesex and Boston Street Railway company, are determined that Jack Dinsmore, a former motorman in the employ of the company shall be reinstated in his former position with full back pay or else call a strike on the road for peace would come with the call an injustice.

Dinsmore was the motorman on the car that ran off the track on River street, near the Bleachery recently and caused an accident in which two women were severely injured and about 30 passengers more or less hurt.

The officials of the street railway company determined that Dinsmore was at fault and discharged him. Dinsmore contended that he was running the car in a careful manner and that the accident was due either to a defect in the tracks or else in the mechanical part of the car.

ABSENT WITHOUT LEAVE

Patrolman Robert A. Stewart, assigned to 210 hours of punishment duty.

BOSTON, Dec. 1.—Patrolman Robert A. Stewart of the City Hall, who was absent from duty for several days, being absent from duty without leave, was sentenced to perform 210 hours of punishment duty in a general order sent out last evening by Police Commissioner O'Meara.

A trial board consisting of Capt. Fenbooy, Hall and Brickley heard the case. Patrolman Stewart, pleaded guilty, explaining that his health had been poor and that one day while on duty he was stricken with an attack of indigestion and was unable to return to duty.

The general order, read at City Hall, states that because of this testimony and of the commendation of his superior officers the punishment would be punished only by extra duty.

U. S. SOLDIER SHOT WILSON WARNS PUBLIC

NUMBER OF PERSONS INJURED ON AMERICAN SIDE OF LINE AT NACO, ARIZ., IS 41

NACO, Ariz., Dec. 1.—A United States soldier was wounded, probably mortally, yesterday by a shot from the Mexican side in the siege of Naco, Sonora.

The soldier is Private Cane of Troop B, Ninth United States cavalry. He was struck in the head. Four Mexican soldiers were wounded.

This makes a total of 41 persons injured on the American side by stray bullets from the bordering forces of Gen. Huerta's troops, entrenched at Naco. One shell yesterday entered the United States custom house, abandoned because of its proximity to the fighting.

Villa's men are advancing their trenches but a final assault seems to be far distant.

CHADLE FOR DARY SARE—

WILLIAMSTOWN, Dec. 1.—The Misses Frances Deane, Pa., have notified "son-in-law" of President Wilson that they have shipped to the Sayres a hand carved leather cradle for the baby heir, who is expected soon. The cradle is of white enamel and the carving on it is exquisitely done. Using the work of Miss Blanche Devlin, a sculptor. The Sayres are highly pleased with the gift, and the baby in the land will have a finer cradle than the grandchild of the president of the United States.

NEEDS OF THE NAVY

Hear Admiral Blue Says It Would Take 240 More Officers and 4000 Men to Equip All Vessels

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—The need of 240 additional officers and about 4000 men fully to equip all American warships of actual military value was explained yesterday to the house naval affairs committee by Rear Admiral Blue, chief of the navigation bureau of the navy department.

Referring to the fact that the department was still purchasing some of its photographic charts from the British government, the admiral said that the United States was issuing more and more such charts each year, and that ultimately the hydrographic charting by the United States government would be as complete as that of any nation.

The estimates of the navy exceed last year's total of $155,000,000 by about $1,000,000.

CLOSING THE CAMPAIGN

Next to the last meeting of the Flying Squadron campaign in Lowell was held this afternoon and another good sized audience greeted the speakers at Associated hall. The last meeting of the campaign will be held at 7.30 o'clock this evening. The speakers at the afternoon meeting included Hon. Oliver Wayne Stewart of Chicago, Dr. Iva Landrich of Nashville, Tenn., and other notable speakers. Samuel H. Thompson presided. Former Governor Manly of Indiana had not arrived, but will be heard this evening.

The solists were Fred Butler of New York city, Miss Vera Mullin, Mr. Butler led the singing and Mrs. Butler played the accompaniment.

Mr. Landrich's Address

In his address this afternoon Dr. Iva Landrich, the Nashville, Tenn. college president, who is the south's only representative on the flying squadron, began with characteristic southern humor, passed quickly from gay to grave and closed with a fervent appeal for the protection of the child, the school, the church, the home and the nation's life and character. All of which may be for eternal salutary association. But, if the saloon is permitted to do its work with and for him, he will be fit neither to live nor to live with.

"To think right, to speak right, to do right, to be right, these are the whole individual program of the desirable citizen; but the living traffic set for keeping men from right thinking, right speaking, right doing, right being."

"Every worth-while man is in debt to at least four generations: To be worthy of his parents by making his father and mother proud that they bore him; to be a blessing to his generation by so living and so serving his age that his children and his grandchildren will be stronger and better for his having touched their lives; to be so helpful to his own children and to the children of his neighbors and to the worse than parentless children that never had a chance; that these children shall grow to morally, physically, mentally, and spiritually manhood and womanhood; that the unborn babies of his own little children shall have worthy parents, well reared and well trained for their sublimely noble life mission; that a wide and alluring life mission is that four-fold program, my friends, but no smaller or narrower one, yet, everybody knows that to the extent that the saloon prospers, every part of this program falls. Let a man become the victim of drink and his father must be ashamed of him, his generation is injured by him, his children suffer from his harm and his children's children are in deadly peril from the children and wicked inheritance that his own vicious slavery bequeaths."

"Every young man or young woman has the right, yes, the duty, to be able to say: 'Yes every time opportunity comes my invitation to be a better person, a more useful person, a more physically strong, the more intellectually vigorous, and the more up-to-date citizen; thus accept the invitations of opportunity. The saloon, when it succeeds with its vicious and its greed for wealth is never satisfied and the brightest and best of our youth are fed into its insatiable maw—alive and weak and broken, short of the period for the youth, and blunders his character."

"The dearest and most vitally necessary institution on earth is the family, wholesome, God-honoring, in which husbands and wives live in mutual confidence and love and where the little children are trained in the fear of the Lord. Give the children of society and all human beings, but no government, will be solved. But no home is immune from assault at the hands of the liquor traffic. He plants in the child the seed of a blinding fam-

Tells Judge Enright Name of Man Who Took Her Off in Auto—Charge of Assault and Battery Preferred

The mysterious abduction of a mill girl returning from work last evening was cleared up late this afternoon when a girl, aged about 21 years, called at the police station to see Judge Enright.

She gave her name as Vaisa Matson, of Suffolk street, and the name of the man who carried her off as Vasilios Fotopoulos.

She stated that he wanted her to marry him, but that she would not marry him on any condition. He had previously taken out a marriage license at city hall.

The girl was accompanied to the police station by her mother and lawyer Albert C. Daniel. It was

MURCH OFFICIAL REPORT SAYS GERMANS ARE MOVING AROUND ARRAIS

Unofficial reports that the Germans had undertaken another attack on Arras, marking the beginning of a great battle received no confirmation in today's communications from the French and German war offices. The French statement, however, contains a vague reference to renewed German efforts in the region in which they have been expected to make their final assault. In case they attempted again to break through to the English channel, it is said the German force was showing considerable activity to the north of Arras. In Belgium the army of the Germans has become more spirited. A long lull. The German state military authorities in view of the situation in the east in a communication giving no intimation of a retreat on the hands of the Russians. An announcement says that 200 prisoners have been taken in the movements near the Vistula river. The Petrograd maintains its attitude of reserve. Such reports are made by any of the three nations in the east with only narrow glimpses of the campaign, so that the picture as a whole is blurred.

RUSSIANS ARE PUSHING AUSTRIANS TO CRACOW

Austrians are Evacuating Position After Position With Very Heavy Losses

LEMBERG, Galicia, via London, Dec. 1.—The energetic Russian advance is persistently pushing back the Austrians into Cracow. Information reaching Lemberg from a trustworthy source is to the effect that the Austrians are evacuating position after position with very large losses.

It is stated that the Austrians' line of retreat is strewn so thickly with the dead that the Russians have not time to bury them. The cold is so severe that the bodies are frozen. German officers are in supreme command at Cracow. They are placing machine guns, light artillery and wireless apparatus. It is reported, on the cathedral and other historical edifices drawing the fire of the Russians to these buildings.

Recent arrivals from the province of Galicia state that the inhabitants of that region exasperated by the Austrians are facing famine.

BOARD OF TRADE CONFER

Decision to Get an Experienced Engineer to Make Survey of River and Report

A conference of persons interested in the Merrimack river project was held at the rooms of the Lowell chamber of commerce this forenoon with a large attendance including Congressman John Jacob Rogers, President Marden and Secretary Murphy of the Lowell board of trade representing this city. A. Sutherland of Lawrence presided.

Following a general discussion between Congressman M. J. Plafan of Lynn and Congressman Rogers it was decided to present an argument based on the adverse report of Col. Craighill, principally from a business standpoint and to request that the engineers set a date within three months to inspect the river, together with an expert engineer. It was also decided to attempt to have Col. Craighill, Col. Lawrence, and Haverhill and to hold hearings on these visits for the purpose of hearing arguments for and against the project.

A committee consisting of Robert Marden and Secretary John Murphy of Lowell, Fred N. Chandler, A. B. Sutherland of Lawrence, Daniel N. Casey and Louis R. Hovey of Haverhill and one Newburyport was appointed to provide compensation to secure the best engineer possible to assist in the work.

A feature of the meeting was the announcement that Congressman Rogers had arranged with the board of army engineers to hold a hearing in Washington on December 15. This means that but one trip to the capital city will be necessary as the principal hearings will take place on the following morning.

All Lowell men wishing to make the trip to Washington must leave their names in Secretary Murphy's office by Friday of this week.

RUSH FOR WAR TAX STAMPS

BOSTON, Dec. 1.—The rush for the war tax revenue stamps was so great at the revenue collector's office here today that shortly after the opening of the office a notice was posted that there were no further one-cent stamps available. Later in the day the supply of several other denominations was exhausted and requests were telegraphed to Washington for more.

A line of waiting purchasers extending from the collector's office on the fourth floor of a downtown office building down the stairs and along the sidewalk outside for a block or more greeted the clerks when they arrived today. A detail of police was on hand to keep the line in order and to hold back a large crowd that gathered to watch the line.

STRICTLY SOBER BASIS

Gov. Goethals Issues Order With View of Preventing Accidents in Panama Canal

PANAMA, Dec. 1.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press).—With a view to preventing accidents, Governor Goethals has ordered that the Panama Canal shall be operated on a strictly sober basis. His order, issued upon the suggestion of Captain Hugh Rodman, superintendent of the canal traffic, affects all persons employed on the canal who possess marine licenses—such as pilots, tug masters, and mates and the in charge of the dredges at work in the canal—and the lock-operating forces. The order among other restrictive provisions, forbids any canal pilot entering a saloon while in uniform.

It is believed that the order will encourage confidence on the part of the ship-owners using the canal, and possibly have some influence toward preventing increase of marine insurance rates on vessels passing through the canal.

GRAIN FOR EUROPE

PANAMA, Dec. 1.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press).—Grain for Europe, from north Pacific ports of the United States, has so far formed the largest single item of cargo carried through the canal, says the Canal Record. In the two months and a half of canal operation ending November 1, the canal was used by 17 east-bound vessels in this traffic, and eight vessels have passed through from the Atlantic to the Pacific in ballast, to return with grain. The laden vessels have carried through an aggregate of 123,255 tons of grain, consisting of 72,332 tons of barley and 43,255 tons of wheat. Counting 30 bushels of wheat and 45 of barley to a ton, the cargo amounted to the long ton, the cargo amounted to 1,325,061 bushels of wheat and 3,351,872 bushels of barley, a total of 4,676,933 bushels of grain. The next largest single item of cargo handled through the canal during the same period was nitrates, principally from Chile. This was carried in 14 vessels, and amounted to 50,000 tons, an average of 3,571 tons per vessel. That the grain shipments should have exceeded those of nitrates is contrary to the prediction that the latter would form the largest item but does not disprove that prediction, as applied to any considerable period of normal world business. It appears that the grain traffic is largely seasonal, and has been stimulated recently by an increased demand in Europe, coupled with a heavy crop in the United States, while the traffic in nitrates, which is perennial, has been, during the period under consideration, considerably depressed by business conditions. It is reported that Atlantic ports of the United States have established new records of grain exportations to Europe during this period.

LABOR FORCE DECREASING

PANAMA, Dec. 1.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press).—The labor force on the canal is steadily decreasing as the work nears completion. The discharges are now mainly among the West Indian negro workers. Provision is made by the canal authorities for the return of these discharged laborers to their former homes, but many of the negroes prefer to remain in Panama to returning to their native islands where labor conditions are reported to be even worse than in Panama.

CLOSE DOWN ON SUNDAY

PANAMA, Dec. 1.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press).—Sunday will be observed hereafter in the Republic of Panama instead of being merely a continuation of the work-a-day week. The National assembly has passed a law which makes it illegal punishable by a heavy fine, for shops to be open on Sunday. The law went into effect today. The measure, however, will not affect the keeping open of the numerous bars.

DOES YOUR HAIR SHOW YOUR AGE?

Of course white hair and gray always suggest age, but often faded dull and brittle locks make us think even young people are old, while a lustrous, heavy head of hair is naturally associated with youthfulness and forces us to credit its owner with being young. Perfectly healthy hair is always beautiful and is very easily acquired if proper care is given to the hair and scalp. In washing the hair it is not advisable to use a makeshift, but always use a preparation made for shampooing only. You can enjoy the best that is known for about three cents a shampoo by getting a package of cantox from your druggist; dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water and your shampoo is ready. After its use the hair dries rapidly with uniform color. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are dissipated and entirely disappear. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much heavier than it is. Its lustre and softness will also be gained, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which insures hair growth. Advise

REFUSE TO QUIT

Mayor Curley of Boston Unable to Make State Candidates Stick

BOSTON, Dec. 1.—Mayor Curley and Senator Timilty, who is chairman of the democratic city committee of Boston, had a conference at the Parker house yesterday afternoon with the nine candidates for the city council who are commonly called the democratic candidates. The purpose of the mayor and the senator was to bring about the withdrawal of six of these candidates, and to make their supporters on the three who remained, but this object was not realized, as every one of the candidates said he proposed to stay in the fight. Senator Timilty stated that he would not arrange another conference, as it apparently would do no good. The candidates for the city council who attended yesterday's meeting were James J. Brennan, Joseph G. Curry, William F. Doyle, Thomas H. Glynn, William P. Hickey, Patrick A. Keenan, Fred J. Kneeland, James P. Maguire and J. Frank O'Hare.

CHICAGO'S ROBBERIES

IN FIVE WEEKS ENDING NOVEMBER 24, 378 BREAKS WERE REPORTED TO THE POLICE

CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—Three hundred and seventy-eight robberies were reported to the police here in the five weeks ending November 24, according to police records. The house robberies and holdups apparently were as frequent in the neighborhoods as in other sections. The most of the records showed the thieves had obtained less than $5.

WILL'S DAUGHTER $1

Thomas J. Heath of East Kingston, N. H., Leaves Property to Housekeeper Rather Than Offspring

KEPNER, N. H., Dec. 1.—The will of Thomas J. Heath of East Kingston, which has been filed for probate, called for the daughter, Emma J. Heath, of Boardman, N. H., Merrill of Malden, Mass., with $1.

The testator gives all residue of his estate to Miss Laura E. Currier of East Kingston, his housekeeper for 50 years, for life or so long as she remains single. She is empowered to sell realty and to use so much of the principal as may be necessary for her comfort or support. His name is named as executrix of the will.

Any balance at Miss Currier's death or marriage is to be given to a trustee to be appointed by the judge of probate. The trustee is directed to build an iron fence around testator's cemetery lot with an arch over the entrance, bearing the name of Thomas J. Heath, and if she be buried there, Laura E. Currier. Of the remainder of the fund, the testator directs that it be expended in planting flowers and beautifying the lot.

Mr. Heath was supposed to have left considerable property.

PARCEL POST TO GERMANY

Service Resumed Between General Austrian-Hungarian—Also With Austria-Hungary

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Resumption of a parcel post service between the United States and Germany and Austria-Hungary was announced by postmaster General Patterson last night. This will make possible the sending of thousands of Christmas remembrances to Europe which otherwise would have been impossible.

Parcel post packages are now available to all countries with which the United States has postal conventions except Belgium, Turkey, the northern and northeastern parts of France.

THE LADY'S WORKBAG

When a bed room or small dressing room is papered with anything but a plain or neutral paper, a light colored or flowered china should never be used, but a little color is needed to add to the room.

In a case of this kind one of the best bed spreads which are so pretty and easily made is just the thing to give the necessary color. Select a plain white spread of a good quality and rather heavy. Cut from china a bunch of roses or a spray of gay colored flowers and fasten one in each corner and a larger one for the center. How to the spread and finish with a long and short but the idea can be carried out for a bed to cover the dressing table and bureau. Make the scarf of linen cut to the top of each and finish the edges with a scallop or a hem and finish this with the stuff that was used on the spread.

The latest addition to the linen closet for the fair bride is a linen envelope to hold a book containing information for the care of linen. The proper folding of it, recipes for mending and the right way to launder, and the correct way to make up laundry and closet lists.

Finish all the way around with a fine biter-stitch and sew on a small snap and snapper to fasten the flap. The book can be bought of white suede or a cheaper one can be used and covered with white linen, write all of the recipes with gold ink.

All little girls love dolls and the more they have the happier they are. Sometimes the head of a doll is broken and the body is still in good condition and out of the body a new toy can be made.

Make a rag head and arms and stitch them to the body and then cover the whole with black basteen. Now take two flat white linen buttons and two black shoe buttons. Pierce the linen ones through the black ones through them and stitch on for eyes. Run a piece of tape down to the mouth and use a piece of black fur for the hair.

A pretty doll discussion can be made from the head of a tiny doll. Wind a length of colored ribbon around the head and rather tightly. Stuff with wool or cotton and gather again at the bottom. Hang by a piece of narrow ribbon that is fastened at the back of the doll's head or it can be made to set on the dresser.

One of the most convenient button bags that I ever saw was made out of a piece of white cloth and as large as a good sized dinner-plate. Place the bag with a piece of the same, sew bassings around it two inches apart and run through a narrow ribbon to draw it up with.

SECOND TRIAL OF BOY TO INVESTIGATE FIRE

ANTONIO MARIANO, 14, ACCUSED OF KILLING WILLIAM MATHERS, 12, IN NORTH PROVIDENCE

PROVIDENCE, Dec. 1.—The second trial of Antonio Mariano, 14, on an indictment for manslaughter in connection with the death of William Mathers, aged 12, in North Providence in the spring of 1912, was opened yesterday in the superior court before Judge Charles F. Stearns. The jury was taken to view the scene of the alleged crime and late yesterday afternoon the taking of testimony began.

Gen. Ham. in outlining the case told of the disappearance of the boy after school on May 14, 1912, and of the finding of the body the following March. He told of the finding in connection with the crime and of the arrest of the boy.

HOUSEWORK AN EXERCISE

How often we hear women groan about being slaves to housework. Each day they take up their brooms and dusters with this depressing point of view, and each night they retire more convinced than ever that housework is the greatest drudgery in the world.

Start the day right. You cannot be happy in a slovenly wrapper with your hair at angles and awry. Don a chic little house dress of slingham, and brush your hair becomingly as you would to attend a matinee. Then with your broom and dusters and a light heart, begin your work with a souff. Glance at yourself occasionally in the mirror while you are dusting the mantel. Notice the color that has beautified your cheeks since you beat the rugs in the crisp air. Note the brilliancy of your eyes, fired with ambition and happiness. Don't be a sullen slave who drags herself around the house with a long face and a bad temper.

If you were in a gymnasium the exercise would be just as strenuous, and you would feel fatigued, but because it was supposed to be a health giving pleasure you would like it. Regard your housework in the same manner.

BOSTON BANKER DEAD

CROWWELL, Conn., Dec. 1.—Arthur L. Devens of Boston died at a rest cure here yesterday. Death is reported due to hemorrhage of the brain. He had been here about three weeks.

Arthur L. Devens was head of the banking firm of Devens, Lyman & Co., 4 Postoffice square, and vice president of the Boston stock exchange. He was also vice president of the Cape Cod canal company, and a director of the Utah-Apex Mining company.

He was born 61 years ago, a member of an old Boston family, and entered the banking business after his graduation from Harvard college in 1874. His firm was the Boston agent for John Hancock & Co. of New York.

He made his home all the year at his beautiful estate, "White Lodge," at Manchester, previously he had lived in Framingham. He was a member of the Essex County club and a member of the Essex County club and the Exchange club. He was a staunch republican and treasurer of the Republican club of Massachusetts.

He is survived by a wife, who was Miss Agnes R. Elwood, a son, Arthur L. Devens Jr., of Milton; two daughters, Elizabeth R. Boardman, wife of Gerald D. Boardman of Auburn, N. Y., and Agnes D. Hamilton, wife of Paul M. Hamilton of 32 Gloucester street, and a sister, Miss Mary Devens of 155 Brattle street, Cambridge. Thomas Mott Osborne, who recently accepted the wardenship of Sing Sing prison, is a brother-in-law.

The son, who some years ago married Miss Wrennath Wetmore of New York, has been associated with his father in business. He left for Cromwell yesterday to bring back his father's body. Funeral services will probably be held Thursday in Emmanuel church, Newbury street, with interment at Mt. Auburn.

NEW ALLEYS TO OPEN

Henry F. Carr & Co. Will Open New Establishment in Gorham Street on Thursday

The new bowling alleys and pool parlors of Henry Carr & Co. in the new building in Gorham street will open on Thursday of this week. This new amusement place will be welcomed with pleasure by many bowling and pool enthusiasts throughout the city. It is a worthy addition to the list of similar establishments and will doubtless be highly patronized in view of the popularity of Carr's in past years and the big increase in the demand for alleys and pool tables this season. Carr has 11 excellent alleys and a fine pool table. On Thursday $5.00 gold will be given to the person securing the highest strike on the alleys for the day. Carr's orchestra will furnish music for the occasion. Mr. Carr has been visited by many people at the new building and all commented in most favorable terms upon this new place. He is receiving the good wishes of his many friends.

YOUR KIND OF HEADACHE

The headache which in addition to the pain, gives the impression of a tight band about the head, is caused by nervous exhaustion. It is a blessing in disguise because it warns you that you are overdoing your supply of nervous energy. Unless you stop the mental fatigue and build up your nerves you will be unfortunate. If you occupy nervous breakdown, some form of paralysis or other severe nervous disorder.

Rest is, of course, desirable but not always possible and liable to be deferred. With sufficient rest the nerves will build themselves up. Failing in this you need something that will build them up and sustain them while they are kept moderately at work. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are probably unequalled for this purpose. They build up the nerves in the only possible way, by enriching the blood with the elements the nerves need. The treatment is one of nutrition of the nerve cells, requiring a non-alcoholic tonic and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have proved unequalled in so many severe cases that every sufferer is justified in giving them a trial for any form of nervous debility. They contain no opiate or harmful drugs.

A little book on Nervous Disorders will be sent free on request by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., or through Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

EX-JUDGE IS ARRESTED

He is 70 and His Wife, Aged 27, Brings Suit for Separate Maintenance

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Former Supreme Court Justice Alfred Ennis of Indiana, father of Mrs. George Horace Lorimer of Philadelphia, was arrested by two deputy sheriffs yesterday afternoon in the Hotel Marlborough, Broadway, and One Hundred and Third street, in a suit for separation brought by Mrs. Norma Schiller Ennis.

Mrs. Ennis, who at twenty-seven is forty-three years the junior of her husband, had obtained an arrest order from Supreme Court Justice Davis on the ground that she believed her husband was about to leave the jurisdiction. In the sheriff's office the white-haired prisoner was held in $1,000 bail.

Mrs. Lorimer, who is the wife of the president of the Curtis Publishing company, which owns the Saturday Evening Post and other magazines, was greatly perturbed when she learned over the long distance telephone that her father was under arrest. She said she would communicate at once with a New York firm of lawyers.

In her petition Mrs. Ennis says she was married May 16 last, and in August her husband deserted her. Her mother, Mrs. Matilda Schiller, she says, advanced Ennis $2,000 at the time of the marriage on the supposition that he was wealthy, but in temporarily embarrassed circumstances. The former justice told mother and daughter, if it is alleged that he had been a big corporation lawyer and owned much valuable land. This included 250 acres in Topeka, Kan., worth $4000 an acre; 67 acres of stone quarry in Bedford, Ind., worth from $6000 to $10,000 an acre; and 50 acres which included the Sierra Bonanza silver mine.

Bridegroom, bride and bride's mother first went to the Hotel Lutwidge to live, and thereafter moved to the Aberdeen, to the Marlborough and to Haddon hall, at No. 530 Riverside drive. Some of the $2000 was used to furnish the third apartment, and then mother and daughter still live.

In June, the wife says, the judge told her he had business in the west. They supposed he went there. Instead, they learned he went to the Marlborough. Still, they received letters from him, mailed in the west.

A letter from George C. Ennis to his brother Alfred is attached to the moving papers. This indicates that George thought Mrs. Lorimer was the moving spirit in the separation.

Noble Character Was Her

Mrs. Ennis says she was attracted by Judge Ennis' commanding personality and his noble character, which he asked her to believe he possessed. However, she learned that the defendant forced his attention on her and married her because of his desire to use her as an instrument in connection with his various promoting schemes.

WORK OF GERMAN SPIES

Coast of England Swarmed With Men Who Send Signals to German Ships—Aliens in Terror

LONDON, Dec. 1.—The lives of those officially designated as alien enemies in England are not cheerful these days, although they are not in any danger of insult or violence. The only outbreak against them was the recent rioting in the suburbs of London when several German ships were smashed.

The rioters received a lesson likely to put a damper on future outbreaks. The ringleader was sentenced to one year in prison for supplying to the rioters and 15 others were released on bonds under consideration that they fulfill their fervent expressed ambition to enlist in Kitchener's army. Hostility against Germans has been excited principally by the popular belief that all of them are active or possible spies. The most recent campaign in the newspapers has been the influential and wealthy Germans who play a powerful part in British financial life. Naturalized Germans, as well as those who retain the allegiance of their birth are included in the general cloud of suspicion.

There are several German-born members of parliament and by an understanding among themselves they are remaining away from Westminster during the war sessions. Several days ago a newspaper started an agitation to have all Germans and Austrians confined in concentration camps and a general roundup was under way. Two causes ripped this movement in the bud. One was prompt retaliation in Germany, where all English residents were gathered in by the police and the other was the discovery of finding accommodations for the great number of Germans who were eligible for the concentration camps.

Spies are sharply divided into two classes by British opinion. Of the German naval reserve, Lieut. Lord, who was shut in the Tower of London, was paid for nothing, and to say. For a naturalized Englishman named Ernest, who was sentenced to seven years' imprisonment there has been much exaggeration. The judge who sentenced Ernest called him a "contemptible creature," and said that he would have been a willing traitor to Germany, as he was a native of Paris. Ernest acted merely as a go-between in forwarding letters to the chief of the German-British espionage system, a man named Steinbocker, and his wages were only 30 shillings a month. Scotland Yard detectives had been shadowing Steinbocker for two years, but they intercepted and read his letters, and permitted those to go on which contained harmless or misleading information.

Public opinion places in entirely different classes the spies who do their work in the most quiet and firm with death and those who follow the business in time of peace, professing friendship for the country and making their living in it.

Popular belief centers on the wonderful doing of German spies. The authorities are haunted with revelations and spies. The whole east coast of England is swarming with men who send flashlight signals to German ships at night. If the stories of the newspapers on coast towns are correct, one gentleman has sent the authorities a detailed account of the code messages transmitted by red and white lights from the neighborhood of his home but the police have never been able to see these signals with the same eyes as the discoverer.

Germanys have made excavations have laid concrete fortifications for heavy guns at strategic points and have built cunningly concealed roads from landing bases, according to some of the most strongly urged clues. Holding these masses of rumor and suspicion, there is enough activity by the Germans discovered occasionally to keep the public in a state of uneasiness.

HELD IN $5000

Telegraph Operator is Said to Have Revealed Contents of Messages

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—H. L. Linder, a telegraph operator, employed by the Postal Telegraph Co. and stationed in the office of the New York Globe, was held in $5000 for action by the grand jury when arraigned in the Tombs police court today charged with violating section 532 of the penal law in that he revealed the contents of certain news messages sent out by the Associated Press.

Albert Venturo, counsel for Linder, requested that the case be adjourned so that his client might confer with counsel for the Associated Press and rectify the wrong he had committed, if any.

This motion was overruled by the presiding magistrate, however.

Several employees of the Associated Press testified regarding a decoy message containing what purported to be news concerning the sinking of the Russian dreadnaught "Tsesar," formerly the "Indiana." Linder, it was testified, said he received money from the New York News bureau, an organization operating a ticker service, for sending it messages taken from the wires operated by the Associated Press. No witnesses appeared in Linder's behalf.

Linder was released in the custody of his counsel until a surety company could renew his bond of $5000.

GEN. VILLA AND 25,000 TROOPS ENTER CAPITAL

Marched Into Mexico City—Gen. Zapata Assures U. S. That the Foreigners Will be Protected

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 30.—Vila and 25,000 troops entered the capital today at the head of the army. He arrived during yesterday afternoon in the suburbs, where he remained during the evening receiving delegations and foreign consuls. Vila will not enter the capital part of the city until the arrival of Provisional President Gutierrez.

General Villa issued the following statement to the Associated Press: "My only mission is to restore order in Mexico and not to take personal revenge on anyone. I promise that order will be restored in Mexico. I am acting as the subordinate of the provisional president, Gutierrez, and the national convention."

The provisional president is now the supreme power in Mexico and I am merely acting as field commander of the army. All foreigners and foreign property will be protected. This morning after receiving news of the capture of Pachuca by the cavalry brigade of General Huerta, General Villa had a narrow escape from death just before his entry into the city. His train collided with the train of General Chao above Tula. Thirty-two persons were killed and 40 wounded. One mile below the scene of the wreck six bodies were found, connected with a battery, concealed in a ravine. The general's train passed over these places, which were not discovered until the next morning.

TO PROTECT FOREIGNERS. WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—General Zapata, whose forces occupy Mexico City, has assured the United States government through American Consul Stillman that foreigners will be given every protection and that his troops will continue to observe order.

Despatches from Mr. Stillman telling of his interview with General Zapata and similar messages from the Brazilian minister in Mexico City were laid before President Wilson and the cabinet by Mr. Bryan.

Both Mr. Stillman and the Brazilian minister report that General Zapata has been most courteous to the diplomatic corps. The only serious disturbance was the firing of several shots by Zapata's soldiers at a fire engine as it went charging down one of the principal streets. Zapata explained to Mr. Stillman that his men mistook it for an assault of the enemy and he regretted that some of the firemen were shot to pieces by the error.

The killing of four Spaniards on the entry of the Zapata forces, also was reported. Zapata also had conferred with the Spanish minister and it is said gave assurances that full protection will be accorded Spaniards in the future.

GARAGE PERMITS ISSUED

was present at the meeting and was accompanied by his lawyer, Albert O. Hamel, who argued briefly and to the point. It was stated to the council that the proposed garage would be made as nearly fireproof as possible. Mr. Rochette said it would be of iron with cement floor, steel window frames, wired glass, etc. The nearest building, he said, would be 22 feet away and the proposed site is 100 feet away from Moody street buildings and 135 feet from St. Joseph's school. He contended that the location had already been approved by the state police, that he proposed to live up to the very letter of the law and that the gasoline would be stored in a 250 gallon steel tank buried in the ground.

Mr. Roy, the remonstrant, said that during vacation season and at other times boys had been in the habit of making little fires on the vacant lots. He feared that if gasoline was stored on the premises the neighborhood might, some day, go up in smoke. He said he would not like to see such conflagrations as occurred in Salem and Chelsea duplicated in Lowell.

Commissioner Carmichael said that if the petitioner would build a garage that complied with all the requirements of the law, he didn't see that the council had any right to object. Whereupon Mr. Roy remarked that the council was elected to protect the whole people and not to favor any particular individual. Mr. Carmichael agreed with the gentleman. "But we have another duty," said Mr. Carmichael, "and it is an important one. Besides protecting the interest of the general public, we have also to allow the individual the privilege that is his by law. People are building garages in the Highlands and Belvidere and I do not see why Mr. Rochette should be denied the privilege after he has gone to the trouble of having the premises inspected by the state authorities."

Mayor Murphy suggested that the proposition should be acceptable to the council before Mr. Rochette was run to any expense, and on motion Mr. Carmichael it was voted to view the premises. The view was taken after the meeting.

IN SUPERIOR COURT

CIVIL SESSION ADJOURNED—CASE OF DOHERTY BROS. VS. GREENBERG IN JURY WAIVED

The criminal session of the superior court, Justice McLaughlin presiding, adjourned shortly before noon today till tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock at East Cambridge. At the opening of the court this morning the case of Thomas O'Connor vs. A. Gordon Foster, both of this city, an action for tort, the damages of which was $1000, was called, but the interested attorneys announced that a settlement had been reached by the plaintiff and defendant. Inasmuch as there was no other case ready and the Lowell list was pretty well exhausted, shortly before noon Justice McLaughlin adjourned to East Cambridge, where the remaining sessions of this term will be held.

Jury Waived

At the jury waived session, Justice Quinn presiding, the case of Doherty Bros. vs. Esrael Greenberg, and the city of Lowell, an action for conversion of property, which was scheduled to go on trial last week, was started. About a dozen witnesses for each side were sworn, and the trial promise to be a long one. In this case it appears that Mr. Greenberg purchased the buildings formerly occupied by Cole & Nichols, founders in Willie street, while Doherty Bros. purchased the tools and equipment of the place and they also claim they purchased a certain building which the defendant demolished and removed. William B. Reagan for the plaintiffs and Bennett Silverblatt for the defendant.

ADDRESS BY PROF. GRAHAM AT MEETING IN WORCESTER—THREE DAYS SESSION

WORCESTER, Dec. 1.—In co-operation with the Worcester County Improvement league, the Massachusetts Dairyman's association, the Massachusetts Milk Inspectors association and the New England Alfalfa association, the Massachusetts state board of agriculture today opened its public winter meetings to last three days at Horticultural hall. A program of lectures was begun with an address on poultry raising by Prof. W. R. Graham of the Ontario agricultural college.

BUY WAR TAX STAMPS

SO GREAT WAS RUSH AT CHICAGO THAT 20 POLICEMEN WERE CALLED

CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—So great was the rush here today to buy war tax stamps that 20 policemen were called to the federal building to maintain order. Two women fainted in the rush, the press of the crowd loosened the door of the office of the internal revenue collector from the hinges and several windows along the corridor were broken.

COLORADO STRIKE ZONE

PRES. WILSON WILL WITHDRAW TROOPS AS SOON AS STATE IS READY TO RESUME CONTROL

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—President Wilson will withdraw federal troops from the Colorado strike zone as soon as he receives official word from Governor Ammons that the state is ready to resume control. The president reiterated today that the commission named by him Saturday would have nothing to do with the present strike but would be of service in settling difficulties which might arise in the future.

NAMED BY PRES. WILSON

JOHN B. LEWIS APPOINTED U. S. ATTORNEY FOR WESTERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—John B. Lewis of Rochester, N. Y., was today appointed by President Wilson to be United States attorney for the western district of New York.

PERSONALS

Mrs. N. Swanson of Wilder street is visiting relatives in New York.

Michael J. Lynch is confined at St. John's hospital with a severe illness.

Dr. William F. Ryan, at this city, has just returned from a brief vacation at his home, Fairfield, Vt. The weather there, he says, was ideal for the strenuous outdoor life and hunting was unusually enjoyable. Dr. Ryan is a warm champion of Vermont as a winter playground and he usually plans his vacation in the hunting season.

Manitoba to Take Drastic Action for Curtailing it During War

WINNIPEG, Man., Dec. 1.—Premier Robt. Anderson today declared that the Manitoba government had decided to take drastic action for curtailing liquor traffic during the war period. The forthcoming session of the legislature will be asked to pass a government bill giving municipalities the right to limit by majority vote the number of licenses and a clause will be inserted giving the government special powers to curtail the hours at which liquor may be sold in times of public stress. While the government has not these powers now it proposes to invite all retail liquor dealers in the province as well as social clubs to close bars at 7 o'clock in the evening instead of 11 o'clock as at present and the wholesalers to close at 6 o'clock.

As the government controls all "licenses," it is practically certain that early closing will become a general throughout the province immediately. In making this announcement, Premier Robt. refers to the large number of citizen soldiers in Winnipeg and all parts of this military division training for service with the second Canadian contingent.

DeKay, a New York broker, on charges growing out of the failure of the institution.

VOTE OF NEW BEDFORD

NEW BEDFORD, Dec. 1.—The vote for city for mayor is very close. Early returns point to defeat of Mayor Ashley for his 18th term. Fifteen precincts out of 20 give the mayor a lead of 72 votes over Edward H. Halliway.

FOR GERMAN WARSHIPS

LONDON, Dec. 1.—A Petrograd correspondent explains that the 150 naval guns recently sent to Danzig, Germany, must be for the two dreadnoughts, two dreadnought cruiser and other warships under construction there. It was not expected that these would be ready until next year, but it is believed their construction has been considerably expedited.

SCOTS GUARDS LOST 1100 RECORDS ARE MISSING

ONLY 200 SURVIVED ON THE AISSE—CORP. BOWN WOUNDED THRICE BUT EXPECTS TO FIGHT AGAIN

MILFORD, N. H., Dec. 1.—"There were only 200 of my regiment left out of 1300. I expect to be back at the front in a few weeks."

Those two sentences, tumbled together in the same paragraph, show the spirit of their author, Corp. S. W. Bawn of the Scots Guards, who in a letter to his cousin, Charles Bowler of this town, tells of the horrors experienced in the battle of the Aisne last September, when his regiment was almost wiped out and he alone of his section survived.

The letter was written from the Southern General hospital at Southmead, Bristol, Eng., where Corp. Bawn was taken from France and from which, patched up and repaired, he hopes soon to be released to get back to the remains of his regiment.

"I managed to get through the fighting all right until Monday, Sept. 14. That day I think I will remember until I die."

"The battle of the Aisne started on Sunday afternoon, when the Black Watch and the Guards had it very hot. When night came on my company was ordered into the trenches, but the Germans knew our position and all night long they kept dropping shells over us, so that we did not get much sleep."

"About 4 o'clock in the morning we got after them again. I thought that we were going to see them off quite easily, for they went back about a mile to the hill, but it was only a trap, they waited for us, and shells were awfully thick. I got up the hill and brought my section of 14 men over the ridge. Then the Germans dropped five or six shells right on top of us. I was the only one left of the section, and I had my knee blown off and out on my side."

"I didn't care about that, though. I tied a field dressing around my leg—a sergeant put it on awfully well—and then I went into it again with the Black Watch, for I had lost my own regiment."

"I had to stick in the field all day, and the firing was awful. The Germans had all their big guns firing at us, and we couldn't get our own guns up to fire back at them. It was just 'hell turned loose.' I never expected to get out alive."

"Well, after lying half the night in the open wet through among the dead Germans and our own dead, I got strength enough to crawl back, and about midnight, nearly dead, I managed to find a field hospital."

"That night I never got any sleep, and to the morning—guess what the Germans did? They blew the hospital up in the air!"

"I happened to be near the door, so I got away all right, but I got another shell in the back that flattened me out for awhile. Through this I missed all the ambulances. I expect they thought I was dead, but I wasn't, though I must be made of awfully good stuff to have stood all this."

"The next carts that came along were the ammunition carts of one, but I helped out the horses and got away for hard, hardly the strength to hang on. The Germans shelled all these carts for miles, and the horses of the one I was on were hit by a shell."

"After that I didn't have the strength to climb onto another cart. The drivers were hurrying away for their lives, so I had to scramble along for two miles on my own."

"I reached a big barn that they called a field hospital, but I couldn't get my wounds dressed there, for there were hundreds before me. I lay there for two days and then I was sent down to St. Nazaire, on the coast."

"It was a journey of 40 miles in a goods van (freight car) with no straw. It was painful, but I got my wounds dressed after waiting for fully four days. The French people were very good to us, though, they couldn't do enough for us. They say that we have saved France."

"I had a good passage over here in a first class cabin. They sent us up to Bristol, leaving Southampton at 7 at night. As early as it was there were thousands of persons waiting at the station to see us, and they were awfully kind to us who couldn't walk."

"We are getting the best medical skill possible, and I think I shall be able to walk all right when the wounds heal. I'm worth two dead men yet. There were only 200 of my regiment left out of 1300. I feel disgraced and my face is better already and I expect to be back at the front in a few weeks."

IMPORTANT PAPERS PERTAINING TO THE USE OF MILLIONS OF DOLLARS GONE

DETROIT, Dec. 1.—Today's hearing in the government investigation into the financial affairs of the Pere Marquette railroad developed the fact that important records, pertaining to the use of millions of dollars borrowed by the road are missing. Clarence Sykes, auditor for the receivers for the railroad who was on the stand today, admitted the records were missing but said they may be found later.

"We are going to find out what became of the $60,000,000 bond issue authorized in 1905," declared Attorney Guthrie, who is representing the interstate commerce commission. Auditor Sykes said the records indicate about $14,000,000 was raised on the issue and that much of it was used in making promissory notes, current expenses and dividends.

When questioned more closely with reference to the notes and payments on them he stated the records were now missing but a more thorough search among the company's sold books might bring them to light.

NEW WAR TAX STAMP

CROWD OF OVER 10,000 STORMED U. S. INTERNAL REVENUE OFFICES IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—A throng of more than 10,000 persons stormed the United States internal revenue offices in this city today endeavoring to buy the new war tax stamps that have to be affixed to many documents and proprietary articles. Thousands who had to wait in line for an hour or more unable to get waited on became so demonstrative that extra police were sent for to keep them quiet.

Collector Anderson estimated that approximately 6000 persons had been waiting on by ten o'clock this morning and twice that number by one o'clock this afternoon. He thought that 20,000 persons would have streamed through his office during the day. The crowd was handled by 1000 clerks working at 15 windows.

DEPUTY SHERIFF CONWAY

Resigns His Position as Officer in the Town of Billerica—in Position for 20 Years

Martin Conway, for 25 years connected with the Billerica police department, the greater part of which he served as chief, severed his connection with that department today and hereafter he will devote all of his time to his new position, deputy sheriff of Middlesex county. Chief Conway will be succeeded temporarily by Roger Barrington, a resident of North Billerica, who was elected a special officer at a meeting of the Billerica board of selectmen, held last evening.

This action came as a surprise to many of the townspeople, as it was believed that Mr. Conway would retain his position until a list of eligible candidates was submitted by the civil service commission. However, it was believed by the selectmen that his duties as deputy sheriff would hinder him from giving the position as much time as formerly and hence the appointment of a special officer.

Mr. Barrington, who has lived in Billerica for many years, although he has never entered into politics, will serve as a special officer until preparations are made for a civil service examination. Following the examination a list of the applicants who receive a mark of 70 per cent or over will be submitted to the selectmen and a permanent officer will then be appointed. It is not believed that a new officer will be named for several months, however.

The following residents of Billerica were granted garage licenses: Dr. Maurice A. Buck, Harry Dunlap, Albert Greenwood, B. O. Sanford and Abram Flint.

TRAVELS IN FAR FIELDS

Lecture Before the Middlesex Women's Club by Distinguished Speaker on South America

An illustrated lecture that took the audience into the unexplored fastnesses of a strange and primitive land was given last evening before the Middlesex Women's club by Charles Wellington Furlong, F. R. G. S. who spoke on "Fertile Argentina and the Patagonian Tampus." The lecturer is an authority in ethnological research and a noted explorer who blends an appreciation for the impressive and beautiful in nature with the scientific value. The beautiful slides with which he illustrated his talk were taken by himself during months of pioneer exploration in the far south among the foothills of the Andes. Not the least interesting part of the lecture was his dealing with the natural richness and progressiveness of the great republic of Argentina.

In opening, Mr. Furlong said that in this country we make the mistake of regarding South America as a country rather than as a continent. With the increased commercial relations, induced by modern necessities, however, we are getting a fuller appreciation of the great republic of Latin America. He said that three republics had universities before the pilgrims landed at Plymouth Rock. His first pictures were of Buenos Aires, the beauty of which was a revelation to many present. The plazas along the water front, in particular, aroused general admiration. Mr. Furlong asked if there was not a parallel in Atlantic avenue, Boston. In the capital of Argentina, buildings cannot be lower or higher than a certain fixed standard, and thus symmetry and beauty are maintained. The architect who plans the most beautiful building of the year is given a prize and the owner is refunded a certain part of the taxes. The pictures of the hotels, public buildings and parks showed Buenos Aires to be far ahead of our cities in point of beauty.

the audience from the fertile wheat fields of Argentina to the wilds of Patagonia, among the interesting race of Patagonian Indians, of whom Mr. Furlong spoke feelingly. He found, he said, that they were hospitable, peaceable and kind except where tinged with the vices of the white man's civilization. One picture showed a large group of their lying drunk around their food after an evening of liquor supplied by white traders. One of the most impressive pictures of the lecture was that of the noble Christ of the Andes, the giant figure erected by Argentina, and Chile on their mountain-top boundary, to mark their public expression of good feeling. The inscription on it says that the mountains shall crumble before their feeling of brotherhood shall fail. Other beautiful pictures were those of the glacial lake, Argentina, with icebergs of all sizes floating over the untraveled spaces. To those privileged in being present the lecture was a light thrown into a little known corner of the world revealing wonders of nature beautiful, inspiring and impressive. One could well understand the feeling that prompted Mr. Furlong in closing to recite some verses of William's "Explorers."

HORSE THIEF WANTED

STOLEN YOUTH TOOK MCGAUVRA'S HORSE AND SWAPPED IT FOR ANOTHER

The local police are searching for the man who stole the horse and buggy from Peter McGauvran at 135 Cross street Saturday afternoon. The outfit is now back in the possession of its owner, the resident of East Chelmsford, who traded in a trade with the horse thief is out $7.00.

When the horse was reported stolen Saturday afternoon the police notified authorities in surrounding towns in the hope of catching the man making for some nearby city. However, it seems that he only went as far as East Chelmsford where he traded the horse and buggy for another animal and a light driving wagon. The East Chelmsford man read a description of the stolen outfit in the newspapers and telephoned the station, giving the police a clue as to the whereabouts of the culprit.

A trip was made to East Chelmsford but it was learned that the change had been made. However, the rig which he secured in the trade was traced to Clapp's stable, and was promptly restored to its owner, while Mr. McGauvran also received his team back. The police believe they know who committed the larceny.

TO HELP CAMBRIDGE
Mayor Good to Confer With Harvard and Tech Men—Offer Method of Assessing Property Sought

BOSTON, Dec. 1.—As a result of a conference yesterday afternoon at the office of Mayor Good in Cambridge, the faculties of Harvard university and of the Institute of Technology are to be asked to assist Cambridge in working out a more scientific method of valuing property for assessment.

For some time the method in use in Cambridge has failed to give satisfaction and recently there has been a loud demand for some change. Mayor Good, who was an assessor for several years, headed the demand by asking the assessors and representatives of the trade organizations to discuss the matter with him.

At the conference, besides the mayor, there were present: Walter G. Davis, president of the board of trade; A. R. Henderson, representing the Yale estate exchange; R. M. Hull, Thomas Gave and H. P. Gilh, representing the board of trade; John J. Ahern, representative.

ELECTION DAY

Eight Massachusetts Cities Choosing Officers Today

BOSTON, Dec. 1.—Eight of the 34 Massachusetts cities which will choose officers for the coming year this month held their elections today. They are Pittsburg, Holyoke, Marlboro, New Bedford, Northampton, Pittsfield, Quincy and Waltham. The liquor license issue will play a prominent part in several of the municipalities. In New Bedford the voters will decide whether clubs shall be restricted as to liquor selling on Sundays and holidays.

ANTI-FLY CAMPAIGN

PROVED FACTOR IN REDUCING SICKNESS AMONG NEW YORK'S TENEMENT BABIES

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Dec. 1.—Reporting to the American Public Health Association here today some of the returns of last summer's anti-fly campaign in New York city, Philip S. Pratt, superintendent of the bureau of public health and hygiene of the New York association for improving the condition of the poor, declared that vigorous protection against the fly had been proved a factor in reducing sickness among New York's tenement babies.

The general cleanup of a neighborhood, accompanied by a reduction in the number of flies, he said, resulted in one third as much communicable disease as occurred in a dirty, insanitary fly-prevalent district. But to determine how great a factor was the fly alone, in communicating disease, an intensive campaign was carried out in 1910, tenement houses, five-story houses and three supervisors visited each home every five days. Every effort was made to protect the infants from flies. Over a thousand yards of netting were distributed free of cost, and fly killing was also undertaken systematically. The results were definitely indicative of less sickness, but general cleanliness seemed to be more important than simply protecting the infants from flies.

Over three times as much diarrhea occurred in the poorly protected, dirty homes as in the well-protected, clean ones, he found.

TO SAVE 1,000,000 BABIES

Boxes of Specially Selected Food Will Be Sent to Belgium by American Women

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Boxes of assorted foods prepared especially for babies and invalids, in accordance with a food list just made out by Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, are to be sent to Belgium by the Women's section of the American Commission for Relief in Belgium. It was announced at the New York headquarters last night.

By means of these "baby boxes," it is thought the lives of 1,000,000 babies and children who are suffering from lack of proper food may be saved. The commission stated that the food which has been sent heretofore has been intended mainly for the adult population, and thus was not as delicate as was required for infants. By the new plan, 20-pound packages will be prepared and marked with a white band and a blue label in Europe they can be sent immediately to alling children.

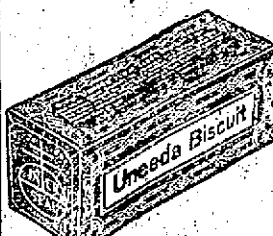

Sixty-pound boxes of food for infants or adults, with blue or red labels respectively, will be sent for food. The president of 14 state federations of women's clubs have accepted places on the co-operating committee.

HOT AIR AND DOPE

Dr. Chapin Hits "Cures" Issued by Health Departments

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Dec. 1.—Untruthful and ungentle statements in bulletins issued by state departments of health were severely criticized by Dr. Charles F. Chapin, superintendent of health of Providence, R. I., in an address before the American Public Health association today.

For the sake of those who come after stop filling your columns with tommy-rot, hot air and dope," he said. "Do not be always seeking novelty. Most that is new is bad. There are plenty of old truths which all of our 100,000,000 people have not yet learned."

Among the fallacies being spread to the detriment of real public health work, Dr. Chapin cited what he called the "old heresy" about the all-importance of dirt in the causation of disease. He said that it is doubtless true that filth encourages cleanliness, which favors infection, but he believed that to fight all kinds of dirt instead of limiting attacks to dangerous dirt is misleading and futile.

AMERICANS ARE WARNED

STATE DEPT. ADMITS THERE IS NO HOPE OF PEACEFUL TRAFFIC IN MEXICO FOR MONTHS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador, informed the state department yesterday of the receipt of a report from Charge Mohler of the British Embassy in Mexico City, saying that good order prevailed in the Mexican capital.

Chargé Mohler said Gen. Zapata was not in the city, but was represented there by one of his officers. He reported that there had been no executions except in case of crimes against good order.

A Consul Canada yesterday said the state department to warn Americans and other foreigners against going to Vera Cruz at this time. Transportation facilities between Mexico City and the port are uncertain. It was pointed out, and those who ventured to Vera Cruz would, in all probability, be stranded there.

In this connection, the state department issued the following announcement: "Many Americans returning to Vera Cruz and it is impossible to go to the interior. No hope is entertained that railway communications will be better for many months to come on account of the fact that the railway lines are controlled by different factions and are in constant danger of destruction. The consul suggests that this information be given to the public in order to prevent American citizens from becoming stranded in Vera Cruz."

Rafael Zubarran, Carranza agent here, late yesterday made public a telegram from San Antonio announcing that the wife of Gen. Pablo Gonzalez had been "absolutely false" the report sent by American Agent Canova that her husband had proclaimed himself provisional president of Mexico. Canova said he was unable to confirm the rumor.

FATALLY BURNED

Milford Woman Attempted to Heat Dinner and Vapor from Kerosene Ignited and Clothing Took Fire

MILFORD, Dec. 1.—Mrs. Concetta Carranza, aged 22, wife of Antonio Carranza of 15 Pond street, was fatally burned yesterday noon while preparing her husband's dinner.

While hastening the fire in the stove with kerosene or gasoline the vapor ignited and in a moment her clothing was in flames. She ran screaming to the street, and by that time the flames had burned her clothing as far down as her knees. John Samandrea, Albert Finner and Michael Ricevelt tried to relieve her by extinguishing the flames. She was taken to the home of Peter Ziorelli, 10 Pond street, and from the first examination her recovery was deemed impossible. More than half the surface of her body was burned.

The fire department was called out to extinguish the blaze that started in the Carranza kitchen.

GUN EXPLODES ON THE CUBA

Two Men Injured in Accident When Cuban Flagship Fires Last Shot of Salute

VERA CRUZ, Dec. 1.—Sergeant Manuel Brindilla and Gunner Vicente Pita of the Cuban flagship Cuba were injured yesterday, in an explosion of one of the guns on board the cruiser as she was firing a salute when entering the harbor. The accident occurred as the vessel was firing the last shot of the salute.

AMERICAN RED CROSS AID TO GENERAL FRENCH

INTERESTING INFORMATION IN CONNECTION WITH RED CROSS SEALS

There are two or three things connected with the Red Cross seals which the general public may not fully understand. In the first place the money realized stays in Lowell and goes to work fighting tuberculosis in a practical and immediate way. In the second place the words Red Cross and the actual red cross printed on the seals do not mean that in these days of war the money is for war uses. It stays at home here and fights a common enemy. It is a cause that knows no race or creed or color. It simply knows that the white plague is a menace to mankind and it fights it.

What you are asked to do is to purchase some of these seals and use them either on your letters or on your Christmas packages, and thus help along a worthy and important work. Place them on the backs of envelopes, on your bill heads, on your packages, on anything that will serve to spread the Red Cross anti-tuberculosis campaign.

At the first of next year when the money is all in hand it will not total a large amount. Perhaps $150 or $200 will be available and that money will be used to employ extra nurses who will work in the tuberculosis "hospitals" or in any locality where attention is needed. In the past the nurses have accomplished great benefits by teaching the afflicted how to take care of themselves, how to protect their families and the public from contagion and what to eat to maintain their own strength where with to fight the disease. It is a practical work and deserves the united support of the community. It costs each individual little.

Many firms in the city have already purchased seals and you will find them coming to you this month on your mail. If you do a little of that work too you will help to save someone from the white plague.

WHAT THE FRENCH MAID SAID

REMOVING STAINS

"I am going to help you," declared Marjorie entering the kitchen where Marie was busy taking out stains, and washing blouses.

"Well, I don't believe there is anything you can really do, but I thank you so for your kind offer. However, if you like, I will explain how I am doing these as I go along."

"I would be very glad to know," replied Marjorie, settling herself on the side of the kitchen table. "I think I will copy your suggestions down on paper, so I will always have them."

"Well here is the first one," said Marie. "Melted tallow will remove ink stains; the ink and the grease will come out together. Garments stained by machine oil must be treated with ammonia."

"Milkweed can be removed by soaking the garment in buttermilk, and anything stained by fruit should be washed in kerosene before washing with soap and water," continued Marie. "Aid stains can be removed by salt or wormwood. Well, the stained parts and rub the salt, then rinse the articles before using."

"Woolen garments are quite easy to wash and so are flannels, yet I washed wrongly in France at one time, they are spoiled forever."

"Make a good lather for them and do not have the water too warm. In the tub will work wonders. They do not want hard rubbing. Dabble them in and down until the dirt falls out. Dirty places should be soaped and rubbed lightly but the major portion of the garment should not require rubbing."

"The second water should also be soapy. Flannels and woolens do not want clear rinsing. Squeeze them out of the water, never wring them as you would cottons. When squeezed they should be lightly beaten and shaken. This loosens the fibres and makes the garments beautifully soft and fleecy."

"Well, there now, I have all those copied and they are very valuable, all of them," exclaimed Marjorie. "It is well to keep a note book of such hints," agreed Marie.

WINTER DANGERS

News items of accidents and fatalities peculiar to the winter season are already cropping out with warning regularity. Here it is a case of drowning through thin ice; there it is a case of a runaway horse; elsewhere it is an auto accident due to the condition of street or road. The list of killed or injured is largest among boys and girls; parents, teachers and others influential in impressing children with the need for constant caution should bring their list of "don'ts" up to date.

There is nothing new to be said about such things as winter dangers, but their very obvious nature is a danger in itself, tending to indifference. As yet we have had but little cold weather and there has been slight cause for alarm, but a week may bring about totally different conditions. One who walked by the canal opposite the Shaw-Loewell machine shop last Sunday night have seen groups of children picking their way over the thin ice where the canal water lay in pools. There is a wonderful fascination in this dangerous pastime for children, and undoubtedly we will have one fatality or more from this source before the winter season closes.

The opening of the Shedd winter park has been a wonderful boon for the children of the city and to a large extent for their parents. Previous to the donation of the Shedd property, the Concord river vied with the Merrimack in its attractions for venturesome boys, with the result that scores of Lowell homes have been darkened by tragedy. One who used the Church street bridge over the Concord once remarked that he did not dare to look to the right or left in the winter time when walking over the bridge, not knowing what moment a little chap would be struggling in the icy waters. Undoubtedly the park department will see that with the first genuinely cold spell the Shedd park area will be closed for the safe amusement of the children of the city, and so far as children can be controlled in such matters they should be obliged to skate at Shedd park or not at all. Occasionally the Merrimack river and ponds in the vicinity are safe for skaters, but the contrary is more often the case.

During the last few years, coasting too has been very much indulged in by the young people of some sections, particularly in Belvidere, Centralville and Pawtucketville. Coasting is a fine invigorating sport, more valuable for the walk up the hill after each trip than for the mere pleasurable feature. It is well, however, that when coasting routes intersect other streets, there be some arrangement, otherwise a serious accident may happen at any time. There have been very narrow escapes from injury or death the last few years because of coasting across streets on which the electric run. Some arrangement between the police and the Bay State company might render such places safe and permit the children to enjoy one of the very best winter sports. Our good coasting streets are too few to make their limitation popular, but nothing involving real danger should be permitted.

Besides the direct dangers of skating on thin ice and coasting over dangerous routes, there are many indirect winter dangers which are going about on slushy days without foot protection or neglecting to keep sufficiently clad on extremely cold days. One very common mistake is to avoid the open air if there are keen winds blowing and to travel in ill-ventilated cars, and to breathe the vitiated atmosphere of the average heated flat. One can get quite as much by being afraid of the cold as by being reckless and the need for ventilation and exercise is as pressing in the winter as in the summer. Our New England winters would lose their rigors if people were not so much afraid of anything looking like the strenuous life. Walk in the open and open windows at night will do more to keep the body in good physical condition than many wraps and sizzling furnace heat.

THREE SMALL BOYS

When we got over the surprise of discovering organized hands of law-breaking and cunning juveniles, locally, to find that other cities all around us were making discoveries from day to day, we may be pardoned for asking, "Is it something so not radically wrong with our juvenile laws, or is it something more serious, more menacing than of alarm in the mind of the public, but when instance after instance turns up, it looks as though the state was face to face with a very serious problem indeed."

The latest notable instance of organized youthful wrongdoing comes from Manchester, Mass., where "three small boys" after being arrested last Sunday for the suspected larceny of a leather bag belonging to a railroad brakeman, confessed to about 22 other thefts. The three small boys are aged respectively 11, 11 and 12. When arrested, two of the boys were attempting to drive away in a touring car which was a nearby garage.

These arrests in Manchester go to prove the oft-made assertion that the present method of dealing with juveniles leads them to the commission of crime out of sheer defiance. These lads had made break after break into homes, stores and summer cottages, taking whatever appealed to them, to the value of several hundred dollars. When found they were well supplied with loot, cigars being counted the stolen property in large quantities. There was no indication of a sudden impulse or want of thought. The "three small boys" had planned to break into homes and stores with the aid of professional and had had no detection for a long time.

A despatch from Manchester, after relating the arrest in detail, makes the statement: "They were taken back to face the juvenile court. Now, those who have interested themselves in the working of the juvenile law in this or any other city of Massachusetts realize only too well the inadequate corrective or punitive influence that the 'three small boys' had in face. One of them had been before the court previously, having been on probation. These frequent instances of juvenile crime show the urgent need for repeal or amendment of the juvenile law."

A COLORADO COMMISSION

For the sake of industrial peace and prosperity and for the honor of Colorado as a state of the Union, it is to be sincerely hoped that the latest attempt of President Wilson to bring thearring elements there together will be successful. Since the great camp agitation a year or more ago, the state has been in a state of chaos. Different elements seemed to be drawn to a degree that has been a danger throughout the state. "We have received many inquiries whether we would like to charter our boats for the trans-Atlantic trade, but we are not inclined to entertain such proposals. Even though business conditions are somewhat unsatisfactory, we look for improvement and it is our duty to provide adequate service to our shippers not only in boom times but also during periods of depression."

The agitation for a merchant union after the first announcement of war was general throughout the country. Now it is being feared that the public is growing indifferent. If anything is to be achieved, public opinion should impress on congress the necessity for a return of our commercial prestige on the seas, to be aided by the restoring of the American merchant marine to its former importance.

SHOP EARLY

It is not a bad idea too soon to consider your Christmas shopping, for the few weeks that intervene between now and the festive season will fly by swiftly. As in other years, it may find you unprepared. At present we are having delightful weather; no one can be certain that the week or so before the holiday will be other than stormy and disagreeable. Now is the time to do your Christmas shopping while the stores are uncongested and the clerks are fresh and able to attend properly to their business. In a few weeks, the usual crush will begin; goods will be handled over and over; thousands will jam the narrow passages. Now is the time to do your Christmas shopping. Remember the title of a forgotten popular melody and "go while the going is good." Incidentally when you shop to make others happy, do not be unconscious in the needs of the store clerks who have reason to fear the approach of the Christmas season in some respects.

SEEN AND HEARD

We all love a cheerful loser.

EUROPEAN WAR

Commercial Aspects are Made Known Through Chamber of Commerce

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Through close cooperation with departments of the federal government here, the chamber of commerce of the United States is keeping virtually the entire business community of the country fully informed of all developments of the European war that reflect directly upon the commerce of the United States, domestic or foreign.

The national alliance of more than 600 commercial organizations was created early in 1912. The membership of the chamber stretches into every nook and corner of the country. Included in its 600 allied organizations are great and small chambers of commerce in every state and every commercially important city of the union. Their total individual membership passes the quarter million mark and every line of industry in the country is represented.

With the outbreak of the European war, the need of the specific information as to its probable and actual influence on business conditions was very urgent. Under the direction of Elliott H. Goodwin, general secretary of the National chamber, the clerical force already organized here to form a bureau of national and international information on business conditions was augmented and its energies directed to meeting the emergency. The bi-weekly bulletins sent out to members were increased in scope. They took up, subject by subject, the problems of neutrality regulations, contraband proclamations, war trading powers, congressional enactments, war emergency orders, and the cotton crisis and every new factor affecting business, brought up by the war. Twice a week members were advised specifically of developments in each case. The chamber has a force of trained men at work among the departments following up every clue to information and they are meeting with ready assistance from department officials. Some of the information sent out is of a very confidential character and to protect it, publication of the bulletins is forbidden.

Now a systematic study of the foreign commerce of the belligerent powers to determine just where openings lie for increasing American foreign trade has been begun. Additional bulletins are being prepared, country by country, showing for instance just what articles are supplied, Germany's trade with her present enemies or with neutral countries now cut off from her markets. Exhaustive investigation of American, British, German and other statistics for preceding years is being made and lengthy comparative tables have been issued. The work is still going on and as it progresses more and more of any article will be able to see at a glance just what opportunities await them in any country.

Paralleling almost day to day with presentation of the financial situation in foreign countries, showing the moratorium, exist and their action, what embargoes on exports have been declared and how they affect the business of the world, the chamber is also in every direction the most complete and up-to-date source of information on the war. PERJURY IS CHARGED
CHIEF WITNESS IN $75,000 PERJURY SUIT AGAINST THE NEW HAVEN RAILROAD COMPANY
WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Dec. 1.—Thomas J. Berkery of Jersey City, chief witness for Oscar Fried in his suit for $75,000 damages against the New Haven Railroad company, has been indicted on a charge of perjury. Yesterday the corporation began proceedings to reopen the whole trial, resulting in a verdict for $15,000 in Fried's favor. It was reported that several other persons who were active in Fried's suit had also been indicted. Fried was a lineman for the railroad company and on Dec. 8, 1912, he came in contact with a wire containing 11,000 volts and both his arms were so badly charred that they had to be amputated at the shoulder. Thomas J. O'Neill, counsel for Fried, said last night: "I have evidence that Berkery demanded a $2000 from the New Haven for making a confession."

BURNED BY GOVERNMENT
CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—The barn belonging to Ludwig Godek, at 319 Centre street, where two cases of foot and mouth disease were found, was burned yesterday afternoon by Dr. W. R. Eckert, a federal inspector. The property was purchased by the bureau of animal industry.

THE SICKABED LADY

A sty is an unsightly abscess and nurse says they are usually due to a rundown system.

For local treatment, the best thing to do, she says, is to bathe the eyes frequently with warm boracic lotion (5 grains to 1 ounce of water), and apply at night a piece of boracic lint wrung out of boiling water. Cover with a piece of jaconet which is pad of cotton-wool on top, as with a bandage.

Habitual numbness of the hands may be removed by rubbing the hands a short time in cold water, followed with dry friction.

The most important factor in treating a burn or scald, says nurse, is to keep it from the air. Therefore, apply any remedy you use by means of a sterile band over the wound. Cover this cloth with cotton wadding if necessary to keep out the air.

This popular cabbage is useful for drawing and cleansing a gathered finger or poisoned hand.

Take a cabbage leaf, roll it out with a bottle until the juice comes and tie it on the affected part.

In cases of illness attracts nurse, when ice is not available for cooling the head of a febrile patient, cut a strip of cucumber, pressed rather thick, and lay the inner part on the forehead. It has a delicious cooling effect.

An excellent remedy for crop is made by beating the whites of an egg to a stiff froth, then sweeten a little, add a little pulverized alum, and give a teaspoonful every ten or fifteen minutes until relief comes.

To stop hiccup, give the patient a teaspoonful of granulated sugar and

After the bowling season ends, the boys at the Lawrence Manufacturing company will in all probability branch out into basketball.

William Ashworth, formerly employed at the Mears Adams shoe company, has accepted employment in a

Nashua, N. H., shoe factory.

Miss Elizabeth Sullivan of the Hay

State mills has returned after spending the past three days with friends in Littleton, Mass.

John Tanque of the U. S. Bunting company, has returned to work after being confined to his home for some time past with illness.

Miss Julia Holan of the Silesia

Worsted company, has returned after spending a few days with relatives in Cambridge, Mass.

Mill employees who have been out of work for some time past are being called back to their work. This is a very sign that the business is picking up.

It is said that Hugh —, employed at the A. G. Pollard Co., lost the opinion that Nashua is far ahead of Lowell in street lighting.

Treasurer Hall of the Shaw Stocking company is optimistic and hopes that an unprecedented era of prosperity is coming to this country.

James O'Brien of the Pilling shoe company, and last year a member of the Lowell Five basketball team is coming in trim for the coming season.

John Shields of the Apptown company, states the ladies night to be conducted by the W. M. C. A., at the club rooms in Stockton street tonight will be a highly enjoyable affair.

The Carpenters' union local 38 will meet tonight in Carpenters' hall in the Rumels building, and final arrangements will be made for the meeting

open meeting to be held in the union quarters tomorrow night.

Trade in Lowell. The A. G. Pollard company has purchased a lot of carpets from the Hartford Bigelow Garment company, which is the first step in the right direction. The second step will be to sell these products in Lowell. Cooperation makes for success. Get in line.

The coming dance to be held under the auspices of the Maple club, involving considerable enthusiasm among the young people. A handsome silver loving cup will be awarded the winner of being something well worth witnessing.

Barbers' Union Met

The Barbers' union held a largely attended meeting last night in Cotton Spinnery hall in Middle street and a great deal of business was transacted. Eighty new members were initiated.

Proposed Change in Child Labor Law

According to reports a new child labor law has been drafted by the Pennsylvania Child Labor association to be introduced at the coming session of the state legislature. The principal features are:

Eight hours a day and not more than one week, for children less than 16 years old. All children less than 14 years old are to be kept out of work.

No work in any occupation is permitted for children less than 16 years old.

Now Concerns Doing Well

The Walters Hosiery Co., a concern

established in this city about two months ago, at 179 East Merrimack street, is doing a rushing business, and according to the optimistic report of its manager and proprietor, Mr. Walter E. Kerhew, prospects for even better business during the winter months looks exceptionally bright. The concern is, as yet in its infancy, employing but 25 hands, but if orders keep coming in as they have been for the past few weeks, larger numbers will have to be found. The company makes a specialty in manufacturing men's black and unbleached muscled stockings, which prove rapid sellers.

The best of sea island cotton is used in the manufacture of the stockings, which can be sold at a reasonable price

owing to the small expense in manufacturing and retail.

It will be of interest to the people of Lowell to learn that the proprietor,

Mr. Walter E. Kerhew, is a former

ENGLISH PRISONERS OF WAR AT WORK IN GERMANY—PHOTO COURTESY BY AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

English prisoners of war are shown in this picture working under armed guard in one of the detention camps in Germany. The prisoners are used to build fences and do other work around the camp. Reports that they are mistreated are warmly denied by the Germans. It is said there are nearly 20,000 English prisoners in Germany.

for the whole nine months ending in September, which amount to about a third of the cotton cloth shipped out a year ago. The falling off in shipments to Brazil, Chili, Colombia and other markets confirms what was said recently about many goods being held up here on account of financial conditions in South America.

General Labor News

The Brotherhood of Carpenters has 21,500 members. Coal mines throughout the world employ 3,000,000 workers. A school for servants has been opened in New York city.

Ohio's minimum legal salary for school teachers is $49 a month. Twenty-five per cent of workers in Pennsylvania industries are unemployed.

Almost one-third of Great Britain's telegraphers are women. Philadelphia labor unions have added 30,000 members in the last year.

There are more than 155,000 clergymen in the United States. Honduras has a national school for instruction for automobileists.

This country has 31 women blacksmiths. New York city's police department employs 10,640 persons.

Union butchers in New York city have established two co-operative shops. Boston (Mass.) Barbers' union has raised the wages of its 1200 members 25 cents a week.

One of the most common causes for fire in industrial establishments is poor lighting. More than 20,000 British postal employees are now serving in the naval or military forces.

Milwaukee (Wis.) Federated Trades plan to sell food to the public at actual cost. Next to agriculture, the railroads form the greatest single industry in the country.

Of Switzerland's 334,000 households, 23,000 are members of co-operative societies. New York's first employment bureau is now in operation.

There are 152 firms in the United Kingdom having some form of profit-sharing in operation. The Massachusetts State Industrial Accident Board is arranging for safety first campaign in the mills and factories.

Seventy state labor bodies were represented at the uniform labor legislation conference recently held at Chicago. All the horse rail factories now observe the eight-hour day and are under signed agreements of carrying the label.

The next convention of the Tennessee State Federation of Labor will be held in Chattanooga, Dec. 28. Baltimore Typographical union has inaugurated a campaign against tuberculosis in the printing industry of that city.

Soft Fluffy Hair is First Aid to Beauty

If your hair is not fluffy, soft and lustrous, falling out, streaked, faded, brittle, or full of dandruff, and if the scalp itches, do not think it must always be that way. For pretty hair is only a matter of care and the use of the proper hair dressing. Your hair is like a plant—it neglected it molderies, while with a little attention it keeps fresh and beautiful.

Parisian Sage is a scientific preparation that supplies just the elements needed to invigorate the hair roots and stimulate your hair to grow long, thick, fluffy, soft and lustrous. It removes all dandruff with one application and quickly stops itching head and falling hair. It is the ideal hair tonic and scalp treatment—contains nothing injurious and is delicately perfumed.

Any druggist can supply you with Parisian Sage—it is inexpensive. You cannot be disappointed with this delightful and helpful toilet necessity, for it will surely give your hair the beauty and charm of youth.

PARCEL POST SERVICE

POSTMASTER-GEN. INSTRUCTS POSTMASTER TO ACCEPT MAILING TO GERMANY AND AUSTRIA

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Instructions were today being sent by Postmaster-General Burleson to postmasters throughout the country directing them, pending further notice to accept for mailing to Germany and Austria, Hungary all packages which conform to the prescribed condition of the international parcel post service.

This service between the United States and the countries named had been suspended because of the lack of transportation facilities due to the war. Resumption of the service will make it possible to send Christmas remembrances to European countries which would otherwise have been impossible.

FAREWELL PARTY

An enjoyable gathering took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Houp, 15 Livingston street, the occasion being a farewell party to Miss Minnie Greenwood, who will soon make her home in Canada. Miss Greenwood was presented a handsome silver service, the presentation being made by Mr. Shire.

A musical program followed these taking part being Misses Mary Gordon, Margaret Lynch, Miss Todd, Miss Agnes Daly, Mr. Swift and Mr. Shire. Refreshments were served and the party broke up at a seasonable hour after all had extended their best wishes to Miss Greenwood and their thanks to their hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Houp.

TO WED SALEM GIRL

Mr. J. Tsafaris, proprietor of the City Hall Confectionery Co., and probably the youngest business man in Lowell, will be married shortly after Christmas to Miss Francis Zurne of Salem. Mr. Tsafaris is but 21 years old and has been in business for the past six years. He is a brother of Officer Peter Tsafaris.

ALARM FOR DUMP FIRE

A portion of the fire department responded to a telephone alarm for a dump fire on Manufacture street at 2:30 o'clock this morning. No damage.

MAP OF TERRITORY WHERE ENGLAND AND GERMANY PLAY NAVAL GAME

Where Germany and Great Britain are now playing a vital naval game is shown in this map. (A) is Salisbury plain, the training ground for a large part of Earl Kitchener's great army. From here reinforcements for General French are being sent to the front, and unofficial reports have it that most of them go to Havre (C) so as to avoid German raiders. These soldiers embark at Portsmouth and other harbors. A raid on these lines of communication was made by German submarines, and two small British steamers were sunk. (D) is Zebruggue, where the Germans recently have established a strong naval base. It is known that submarines have been gathered there, and the ones that made the raid on Havre probably went from this port, dodging or going under the British mine field which protects the strait of Dover. It was at Sheerness, opposite Zebruggue, that the British battleship Bulwark was blown up, and before that a submarine raid was made in the Downs, south of Sheerness. Recently British warships have been bombarding Zebruggue, endeavoring to smash it as a naval base, and the Bulwark is supposed to have returned from a bombardment, and to have been taking on a new supply of ammunition when she was blown up. (B) shows the region where the British have entrenched at stationed 200,000 men, it is reported, to meet a possible German invasion. Should the kaiser attempt such a feat the base at Zebruggue would undoubtedly be of great importance in his army and navy movements.

MORE CATTLE DOOMED

State Inspector Farrington; Dr. Lewis of Nashua, and Inspector James O. Titcomb, of Pelham, investigated the reported cases yesterday and verified the report made by Dr. Lewis to the effect that the cattle were infected.

Four well developed cases of the foot and mouth disease were found and Dr. Lewis was ordered to dispose of the entire herd at once. The cattle will probably be killed today along with barn cats, one hog and flock of doves. Action as to the disposal of the hay will be taken later. A trench will be dug on the farm and the carcasses buried and covered with quicklime as in the case of the Coburn herd in Dracut.

WORK FOR BETTER ROADS—CROSSED CASCADE RANGE—THE MOTORCYCLE

"Connecticut must follow the other states and put her convicts on the roads," said President Strenuous of the Connecticut Federation of Labor, addressing a group of ball-room audiences at the beautiful home of Mrs. John H. Flanagan at Greenwich, near New York City. The meeting held under the auspices of the national committee on prisons and prison labor was told by Chairman Adolph Lewisohn that the war was on against the contract system of prison labor and would go on despite the war in Europe; that labor must be justly treated and the best interests of the country must be asserted. The accomplishment in New York City by Dr. Katherine Davis, who pointed out that reform meant practical administration and that the prison labor problem must be scientifically handled along the lines outlined by the national committee on prisons and prison labor.

Braves' Shortstop in Lowell Gives an Interesting Interview to Sun Reporter

"Rabbit" Maranville, shortstop of the world champion Braves and picked by many as the greatest of all shortstops, in Lowell for a week's stay during the engagement here as an artist of the "Rabbit" Maranville. And though "The Rabbit" has now been "on the boards" for several weeks he is just the same modest little chap that he was when he was picked by the diamond at Scouting park in a New Bedford uniform.

George "Lefty" Tyler, the former Lowell twirler who helped the Braves to the New Bedford club, was on hand bright and early this morning to greet his comrade-in-arms and the writer found both of the famous ball players waving over the heavy old story of the most spectacular rise ever taken by a ball player.

"The Rabbit" has his auto here with him, making most of his jumps from city to city. His wife, they were married only a few weeks ago in their home town of Springfield, accompanies the famous infielder on his theatrical tour, and Mrs. Tyler accompanied "Lefty" this morning on his trip in from the farm to see his teammate.

Praises Lowell Fans
"Like Lowell" replied Maranville to a question put by the writer. "Why the New Bedford club always was better by the fans of this city than by any other along the New England League circuit."

"And, by the way," continued "The Rabbit," "I spent a mighty fine time in the New England league. Nobody could complain about the way Tommy Dowd handled us boys on the New Bedford club, and although we were down in the race my last year fifth in club, we always received the best of treatment everywhere."

"Speaking of managers, however, always brings me back to the greatest manager of all players in the game, our own George Stallings. He was a real ball player and all of us feel toward him the same as we do toward our relatives."

"Of course I don't like to brag or show off, but I feel that the Braves will repeat next season. In fact, you know, we really ought to be better than we were last year. We're all of us youngsters, and the success which we had this season and the way in which the boys fought it out, through all the insurmountable difficulties, is enough to inspire confidence in the most ragged ball club and when you stop to consider the remarkable team work displayed by the Braves during the latter part of the season and through the four games of the world series it is hard to figure out how they are going to head us off in either league next year."

The talk then drifted on to the trials and the Rabbit chuckled to himself as he thought of his first night before the footlights. "That was sure some experience," vaunted the diminutive shortstop, "and I thought I'd never get through with the act that first night. It was all right after that, though, and I don't mind it at all now. Of course I was out with a quartet the year before but that was a different proposition altogether."

"Say, you know Jesse Burkett of Worcester, the next time you see him, ask him how he liked to be in on that Thanksgiving at Worcester. But when

WITH THE PADDED MITTS

Phiney Boyle, states that he was to box Young Morgan in Manchester in a short time and will start training soon for the affair. Boyle has had a good year so far, defeating Young Chackus and Johnny Munkie.

Billy Brooks, the local 118 pounder, will be ready to enter the fight arena in a few weeks time. Billy claims he did not have any time to train and that is the reason he did not box at Lawrence recently.

Young Saylor who boxed Joe Mandot at Boston recently, will mingle over the ten round route with Jack Britton at Hattie, Wis., on Dec. 11. Saylor will meet at catchweight as he refused to make weight for Britton. Britton should win.

Soldier Barfield, the Brooklyn middleweight, who defeated Al "One Punch" McCoy a few weeks ago, will meet McCoy again on Dec. 22 at a Brooklyn club. Al was not satisfied with the beating he received and wants to prove he is the better man.

Kid Graves, the Milwaukee waterweight boxer, is planning an invasion of the New England states and will probably be seen in action at the Lawrence club in the near future as Matchmaker Cillely is angling for the services of Graves to meet either Wild Bill Fleming or Joe Egan. Graves will box Mike Glover at the Thornton club on Dec. 5th.

Freddie Walsh, champion lightweight of the world, and Joe Shugrue will weigh in at 135 pounds at 8:00 o'clock for their match tomorrow night in New York. Shugrue had a successful trip to Australia recently where he defeated all the best lightweights in the Antipodes and will give Walsh a lot of trouble in their ten-round argument.

Young Ahearn, the "dancing master" of Brockton who recently defeated Buck Cross, the Pittsburgh boxer in Philadelphia, recently will be there again on Christmas day. His opponent will either be Jimmy Cobby or Mike Gibbons. Ahearn recently returned from England where he made a very good showing with the best fighters of Europe and was matched to meet Georges Carpentier. The War broke out, however, and the bout was called.

Jimmy Fasano will resume ring duties Thursday night at Lawrence when he meets Larry Burns, the popular North Andover boy who has been cleaning up his opponents in great style this season and expects to spoil the ambitions of Fasano. Fasano boxed Roy Wood Thanksgiving day at Portland and received a severe cash under his eye which necessitated the stopping of the bout in the seventh round after the referee saw that Fasano was boxing under too big a handicap.

NO BAD FEELING

Textile and High School Attended Keith's Last Evening

The war's all over. This statement is true, at least, so far as local football goes, and those who watched the members of the Textile and high school teams after the performance at Keith's theatre last night can make affidavit to the fact.

Bitter as the rivalry between the two eleven's was nothing but good fellowship is now evidenced on all sides. Both squads attended last night's performance at the local vaudeville house, occupying opposite boxes.

Before the orchestra took their places in the pit, the high school boys opened, proceeding with a cheer for Textile which was loudly applauded from the other box and their respective captains, Lane and McPherson, were seated in the same manner and then the boys settled down to enjoy the bill.

As the members of the eleven's mingled out of the theatre the feeling was shown to exist between them. It hardly seemed like the same two groups of young men who mused each other up in Saturday's Sunday game.

Both Textile and high school once more on an amiable footing the local public are certain to see some very classy contests in the future. Not only on the gridiron but probably on the diamond and perhaps on the track as well.

It is to be deplored that athletic relations were ever broken off between the two schools. With athletics between them handled skillfully as was the football game this season there should be no bad feeling crop out of them. The breeding of bad blood is not at all necessary, although rivalry between the two institutions may be at fever heat.

No serious injuries resulted from the two schools' football game. Textile's tackle, received a broken leg, but was able to attend his rehabilitation yesterday. O'Brien, Roane and Potter were also slightly hurt, but all of them were right on the job at Keith's last night.

The fact that none of the players was injured badly is a big point for contention among those interested in either school. As a result of the game, especially of interschool rivalry, wherein a player is severely hurt, ways leaves a bad feeling in its wake.

The friendly attitude now existing between the students of the two local schools is directly due to the capable handling of last Saturday's game, and all arrangements pertaining to it by Arthur A. Stewart, faculty manager of Textile school athletics, and William W. Dennett, faculty manager of football at the high school. These two instructors showed rare good judgment in every detail and should receive the hearty endorsement of both schools as well as that of the sporting public at large.

QUITS QUEENSTOWN CALL
Steamer Arabia, Which Sails Today, Will Stop at Portland and Halifax to Get Passengers

BOSTON, Dec. 1.—Steamer Arabia, Captain Elch, sailing from Commonwealth docks this morning, will call at Portland and Halifax, on her way to England, to embark passengers. About 100 cabin and 200 steerage passengers will embark here and at the other ports she will pick up 200 cabin and 100 steerage.

Four-year-old Barbara Rimmer, who came over on the steamer six weeks ago unaccompanied, will go back with her father. A number of English missionaries from the Orient arrived last night to sail on the liner. Among them were Rev. and Mrs. Bowditch and Rev. O. H. Knight and family. L. T. Wirth and family, on their way from China to England, will also go on the steamer.

Longshoremen worked most of last night slowing the last of the freight. The liner will omit the usual call at Queenstown, presumably on account of the danger of striking German mines, which are said to have been sown off the Irish coast.

CAPTAIN OF YALE TEAM BOSTON NAT'L'S MEET

WILSON WILL LEAD ELEVEN—FRANK HINKEY TO REMAIN AS HEAD COACH FOR THE BLUE

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Dec. 1.—Yale's football captain for 1915 will be Alexander Dockren Wilson of Binghamton, N. Y. Every one of the 11 players who were in either the Yale game against Princeton or Harvard took part in last night's balloting incident to the annual banquet of the eleven in famous Room 117 at the Hotel Taft.

The election was held in executive session and at its close it was announced that the election was unanimous. While the final announcement was of an unanimous election it is understood that Carroll Knowles received several votes. Knowles, although a senior, will return for another year and is eligible for the captaincy. He is enrolled in the Sheffield Scientific school and was supported largely by members of that department of the university.

Wilson is an academic junior. He prepared for Yale at the Princeton preparatory school. He was quarterback on the freshman eleven two seasons ago and played quarterback last and during the present season.

Wilson made no announcement of his intention after last night's election, but Dr. William Bull, Sheffield coach, through previous arrangements, called on him and two other members of the present eleven will be announced as resident coaches for next fall. Ed. Rush Carter and Halbrook Ainsworth are considered probable as coaches.

Pres. Jimenez of Dominican Republic Finds Opposition Will Not Let Congress Meet

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Although Juan L. Jimenez has been elected president of the Dominican republic, he is unable to take the oath of office before congress. The opposition, controlling congress, refuses to hold a session.

This information reaching the state department today caused officials to feel somewhat doubtful over the situation in the island republic. BOSTON MAN ARRESTED

PROVIDENCE, Dec. 1.—George Monroe, alias Frank Snow, of Boston, was arrested by the Western police today, accused of the theft of a polo pony held by at Narragansett Pier last night, from John R. Felt of Philadelphia.

The horse, in charge of a driver for Felt, was leaving the street where it was stolen, Sheriff John R. Wilcox sent information to various cities and towns and as a result Monroe was arrested just as he entered Western. He was taken to Kingston, where he may be arraigned tomorrow.

Camel

Quality Not Premiums 20 for 10c

CIGARETTES
No Premiums with Camels

YOU get more than your money's worth when you buy Camels. 20 for 10c. That's why you won't find premiums or coupons. The cost of the tobacco prohibits their use.

Camels are so good in flavor, so smooth and even, that money can't buy a more delicious cigarette. They can't hit your tongue or parch your throat and do not leave the cigarette taste.

If your dealer can't supply you, send for a pack of ten packages (200 cigarettes), sent postage prepaid. If affording one package you are not satisfied with CAMELS, return the other nine packages, and we will refund your money.

LEE MAGEE SAYS HE WILL JUMP TO
FEDERALS ONLY TO BE A MANAGER

Lee Magee, the St. Louis Cardinal player who has been flirting with the Federal league, denies that he has signed any contract, and he says he will not sign unless he gets a managerial berth. At one time it was reported that Magee was to succeed Bill Bradley as manager of the Brooklands, but there seems to be a hitch in that deal. Magee is only twenty-six years old, and he has been a major league player but five seasons. Should he become a manager he will be the youngest man who ever attempted to handle a big league team. Hal Chase was twenty-eight when he became manager of the New York Yankees, where he did not make good. Charley Doan was the same age when he took charge of the Philadelphia National league team. Magee got $6000 last season with the Cardinals as salary, and his bonus because the team finished third was $1200. That is a good deal more than other players of his ability received, and St. Louis fans are not pleased with his threat to quit the Cardinals as he had signed a contract for two years longer. However, his contract had the ten days' release clause, and he gave notice some time ago that he had canceled the contract.

CONTRABAND OF WAR

STATEMENT OF AMERICAN AMBASSADOR PRINTED IN GERMAN PRESS—CHARGES SUGGESTED

BERLIN, Dec. 1.—The statement of the American ambassador regarding contraband is generally printed in the German press. The Kreuz Zeitung says that no objection can be raised to the point of view taken which is thoroughly comprehensive.

Count Ernest von Reventlow in the Tages Zeitung finds the American standpoint technically correct but argues that such shipments which thereby only the allies benefit and which constantly strengthen the military effort directed against Germany actually work out in practice as a support of the belligerent to the detriment of the other and in a way are contrary to the spirit of neutrality. He makes the suggestion that the American government use the weight of its authority in London to ensure the delivery of such supplies to Germany and its allies.

He also says that the United States will be able to demonstrate by such a practical policy indisputably that its neutrality is loyal.

The statement credited to Ambassador Gerard is undoubtedly the view expressed by the United States in reply to Germany's protest that England and France were violating the neutrality of London with regard to contraband. The reply says that the United States with its respect for the neutrality of London is not prepared to adopt a temporary code of naval warfare for use in the present war and that this was done because of the unwillingness of some of the belligerents to accept the declaration of London without modification. The United States government, therefore, the reply went on to say, would insist that its rights and its duties and those of its citizens in the present war be defined by the existing rules of international law and the treaties of the United States with the belligerents. It also said that the United States government would reserve the right to enter a demand or protest in every case in which its rights and duties are violated or their face exercise hindered.

Follow crowd to Boat House, tonight.

A QUARTER CENTURY AGO

Judging from The Sun of a quarter of a century ago the city election in 1889, for excitement and general interest, was in the nature of a cyclone compared with the quietness of the present campaign, and I say quietness, with full knowledge of the fact that the street corner speakers are in bloom. It was Mayor Palmer's attempt for a third term and while he was one of the most popular men in Lowell in his day, with people of all classes and creeds, party lines were so tightly drawn that he received his burial quietly, despite his great popularity. You can apply all the adjectives that go to indicate popularity to the Hon. Charles D. Palmer and each one of them would fit some part of his personality. He was democratic, a great mixer, genial, affable, kindly and sympathetic.

In both English and French. Had the noble sons of France and Macedonia discovered the highways and the byways of the Age in those days the general mayor would have been right there with the "Chien-na," which phonetically spelled, is the Market street home for "Conestogues" or "Conestogas," otherwise known as the "Howe-do." He was in great demand at all society, social, fraternal and sporting events and he never missed any from a coalition to a christening. He could lead a coalition in a manner that would make Vernon Castle sit up and take notice and could refer to a coalition in a manner that would make the other forget his troubles. No horse race was a success unless Mayor Palmer was in the judge's stand while no banquet was ever started until he had arrived. He had a wonderful memory for names and faces and could remember a man or woman he would not forget. He was not a man to be trifled with. He was a man to be feared. He was a man to be respected. He was a man to be loved. He was a man to be admired. He was a man to be followed. He was a man to be imitated. He was a man to be remembered.

It is evident that the temperance men of St. Peter's parish had no dearth of entertainments in the old days for the different societies connected with the parish were "strong" on entertainments as may be seen from the following: St. Peter's Cadets Wednesday evening. The following program was carried out: Harmonica solos, Charles Whelan; Charles Sullivan; vocal solos, Charles Myrrell, Fred Jennings, Frank McKee, Henry McLaughlin, piano accompaniment, Campbell, Charles, and Condon, J. Campbell, Charles, and Condon, J. Campbell.

There was a gay time at Thursday's meeting of St. Peter's Total Abstinence society. Some cheerful solos by Michael O'Shaughnessy, Stephen Murphy, John Mooney and Jas. White and recitations by Francis O'Neill and Michael White made the evening pass pleasantly.

Daily presented at the meeting of St. Peter's Cadets Wednesday evening. The following program was carried out: Harmonica solos, Charles Whelan; Charles Sullivan; vocal solos, Charles Myrrell, Fred Jennings, Frank McKee, Henry McLaughlin, piano accompaniment, Campbell, Charles, and Condon, J. Campbell, Charles, and Condon, J. Campbell.

There was an enjoyable time Saturday night at the hall of St. Peter's Temperance society. About 200 persons were present and Owen Mahan was manager. John Mooney, floor director, John Gillespie, Stephen Murphy, piano and John Doherty were aid. A cashman was presented, a gold medal by President Francis McKee, for selling the largest number of tickets. Michael O'Shaughnessy recited vocal selections during the intermission.

Again the Happy Days. Says the old Sun: "The Aldermen Monday inspected the single trolley system of the city and great trolley system of Boston. President McGinty entertained the party and there was luncheon at the Aldermen's club and a dinner at Young's. The whole was topped off with four boxes at the Globe theatre."

Mayor Palmer will call on McGinty. If the mayor did call upon McGinty, as the Sun predicted, evidently he got there before election day and talked to gentlemen into abandoning the wiles of the merrymen temporarily and coming back to vote for the mayor.

Later a small party of the members of the city council of quarter of a century ago.

Ellis Memorial Exercises. On next Sunday evening, December 6, Lowell lodge of Ellis will hold its annual memorial exercises in the Merrimack square theatre and they will be of more than ordinary interest to the general public as well as to the members, by reason of the fact that the orator of the occasion will be Ellis McGinty, Governor of the state.

MOTION FOR CHANGE OF VENUE IS DENIED

Trials of Dr. Lionel Dudley and Miss Pelletier, Held in Sullivan Case, Will be Held in Houlton

HOULTON, Me., Dec. 1.—The motion of public feeling would, he said, be bad and that the trials of Dr. Lionel Dudley and Miss Pelletier, probably worse in another county. The judge said, he was entitled to fair treatment and he would see that they have a fair trial. Motion was denied by both Dr. Dudley and Miss Pelletier and the decision holds for whoever is to be tried first. Judge Haley intimated that after the first trial it might be best to grant the motion in the case of the other person. The main two provisions that trial shall be held in the district in which the crime is committed unless the court sees fit to change it to another district and this, he said, is not often granted.

GEORGE A. NELSON, 35, SAYS THAT HE THINKS JUST AS MUCH OF MISS FRANCES WILSON AS EVER

BOSTON, Dec. 1.—George A. Nelson, 35, a former president of the Dorchester Bachelors' club, has given up his intention of marrying 29-year-old Frances Maria Wilson of 60 Russell street, Charlestown, the wealthy invalid who had been his friend from the cradle up and who bought him his first long-pants suit of clothes. Refused a marriage license from the Boston registry on the grounds that he was not "mentally competent" to enter into such a contract, Nelson last night wrote a letter to City Clerk Edward J. Brannon of Cambridge withdrawing an application for a license to marry Miss Wilson which he had filed in that city.

"I have decided to give up my intention of marrying and have written a letter to City Clerk Brannon of Cambridge withdrawing my application for a marriage license," Nelson wrote. "I have decided to give up my intention of marrying and have written a letter to City Clerk Brannon of Cambridge withdrawing my application for a marriage license."

BATTLE BETWEEN YSER CANAL AND RIVER LYS

Thousands Have Died in Vicinity of Dixmude as Result of German Effort to Force Way to English Channel—Russians at Gates of Cracow

A general retirement of the Germans before the Belgian town of Dixmude was reported unofficially today. This town, recently captured by the Germans from the allies, lies in the heart of the contested region of Belgium where uncounted thousands have died as a result of the German effort to force a way to the English channel. The reported withdrawal could not be reconciled with reports that last night, a general battle was fought between the Yser canal and the river Lys. It was said that 120,000 Germans had been brought up before Ypres to make a last effort to capture the town.
